DETAILS OF THE DREADFUL TRAGEDY.

[OFFICIAL.]

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, April 15—1:30 A. M.

Maj.-Gen. Dix:

This evening at about 9:30 P. M., at Ford's Theatre, the President, while sitting in his private box with Mrs. LINCOLN, Mrs. HARRIS, and Major RATHBURN, was shot by an assassin, who suddenly entered the box and approached behind the President.

The assassin then leaped upon the stage, brandishing a large dagger or knife, and made his escape in the rear of the theatre.

The pistol ball entered the back of the President's head and penetrated nearly through the head. The wound is mortal. The President has been insensible ever since it was inflicted, and is now dying.

About the same hour an assassin, whether the same or not, entered Mr. SEWARD's apartments, and under the pretence of having a prescription, was shown to the Secretary's sick chamber. The assassin immediately rushed to the bed, and inflicted two or three stabs on the throat and two on the face. It is hoped the wounds may not be mortal. My apprehension is that they will prove fatal.

The nurse alarmed Mr. FREDERICK SEWARD, who was in an adjoining room, and hastened to the door of his father's room, when he met the assassin, who inflicted upon him one or more dangerous wounds. The recovery of FREDERICK SEWARD is doubtful.

It is not probable that the President will live throughout the night.

Gen. GRANT and wife were advertised to be at the theatre this evening, but he started to Burlington at 6 o'clock this evening.

At a Cabinet meeting at which Gen. GRANT was present, the subject of the state of the country and the prospect of a speedy peace was discussed. The President was very cheerful and hopeful, and spoke very kindly of Gen. LEE and others of the Confederacy, and of the establishment of government in Virginia.

All the members of the Cabinet except Mr. SEWARD, are now in attendance upon the President.

I have seen Mr. SEWRD, but he and FREDERICK were both unconscious.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

DETAIL OF THE OCCURRENCE.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 14—12:30 A. M.

The President was shot in a theatre to-night, and is, perhaps, mortally wounded.

Secretary SEWARD was also assassinated.

SECOND DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 14.

President LINCOLN and wife, with other friends, this evening visited Ford's Theatre for the purpose of witnessing the performance of the "American Cousin."

It was announced in the papers that Gen. GRANT would also be present, but he took the late train of cars for New-Jersey.

The theatre was densely crowded, and everybody seemed delighted with the scene before them. During the third act, and while there was a temporary pause for one of the actors to enter, a sharp report of a pistol was heard, which merely attracted attention, but suggesting nothing serious, until a man rushed to the front of the President's box, waving a long dagger in his right hand, and exclaiming "Sic semper tyrannis," and immediately leaped from the box, which was in the second tier, to the stage beneath, and ran across to the opposite side, making his escape amid the bewilderment of the audience from the rear of the theatre, and, mounting a horse, fled.

The screams of Mrs. LINCOLN first disclosed the fact to the audience that the President had been shot, when all present rose to their feet, rushing toward the stage, many exclaiming "Hang him! hang him!"

The excitement was of the wildest possible description, and of course there was an abrupt termination of the theatrical performance.

There was a rush toward the President's box, when cries were heard: "Stand back and give him air." "Has any one stimulants." On a hasty examination, it was found that the President had been shot through the head, above and back of the temporal bone, and that some of the brain was oozing out. He was removed to a private house opposite to the theatre, and the Surgeon-General of the army, and other surgeons sent for to attend to his condition.

On an examination of the private box blood was discovered on the back of the cushioned rocking chair on which the President had been sitting, also on the partition and on the floor. A common single-barreled pocket pistol was found on the carpet.

A military guard was placed in front of the private residence to which the President had been conveyed. An immense crowd was in front of it, all deeply anxious to learn the condition of the President. It had been previously announced that the wound was mortal; but all hoped otherwise. The shock to the community was terrible.

The President was in a state of syncope, totally insensible, and breathing slowly. The blood oozed from the wound at the back of his head. The surgeons exhausted every effort of medical skill, but all hope was gone. The parting of his family with the dying President is too sad for description.

At midnight, the Cabinet, with Messrs. SUMNER, COLFAX and FARNSWORTH, Judge CURTIS, Gov. OGLESBY, Gen. MEIGS, Col. HAY, and a few personal friends, with Surgeon-General BARNES and his immediate assistants, were around his bedside.

The President and Mrs. LINCOLN did not start for the theatre until fifteen minutes after eight o'clock. Speaker COLFAX was at the White House at the time, and the President stated to him that he was going, although Mrs. LINCOLN had not been well, because the papers had announced that Gen. GRANT and they were to be present, and, as Gen. GRANT had gone North, he did not wish the audience to be disappointed.

He went with apparent reluctance and urged Mr. COLFAX to go with him; but that gentleman had made other engagements, and with Mr. ASHMAN, of Massachusetts, bid him good bye.

When the excitement at the theatre was at its wildest height, reports were circulated that Secretary SEWARD had also been assassinated.

On reaching this gentleman's residence a crowd and a military guard were found at the door, and on entering it was ascertained that the reports were based on truth.

Everybody there was so excited that scarcely an intelligible word could be gathered, but the facts are substantially as follows:

About 10 o'clock a man rang the bell, and the call having been answered by a colored servant, he said he had come from Dr. VERDI, Secretary SEWARD's family physician, with a prescription, at the same time holding in his hand a small piece of folded paper, and saying in answer to a refusal that he must see the Secretary, as he was entrusted with particular directions concerning the medicine.

He still insisted on going up, although repeatedly informed that no one could enter the chamber. The man pushed the servant aside, and walked heavily toward the Secretary's room, and was then met by Mr. FREDERICK SEWARD, of whom he demanded to see the Secretary, making the same representation which he did to the servant. What further passed in the way of colloquy is not known, but the man struck him on the head with a "billy," severely injuring the skull and felling him almost senseless. The assassin then rushed into the chamber and attacked Major SEWARD, Paymaster of the United States army and Mr. HANSELL, a messenger of the State Department and two male nurses, disabling them all, he then rushed upon the Secretary, who was lying in bed in the same room, and inflicted three stabs in the neck, but severing, it is thought and hoped, no arteries, though he bled profusely.

The assassin then rushed down stairs, mounted his horse at the door, and rode off before an alarm could be sounded, and in the same manner as the assassin of the President.

It is believed that the injuries of the Secretary are not fatal, nor those of either of the others, although both the Secretary and the Assistant Secretary are very seriously injured.

Secretaries STANTON and WELLES, and other prominent officers of the government, called at Secretary SEWARD's house to inquire into his condition, and there heard of the assassination of the President.

They then proceeded to the house where he was lying, exhibiting of course intense anxiety and solicitude. An immense crowd was gathered in front of the President's house, and a strong guard was also stationed there, many persons evidently supposing he would be brought to his home.

The entire city to-night presents a scene of wild excitement, accompanied by violent expressions of indignation, and the profoundest sorrow—many shed tears. The military authorities have dispatched mounted patrols in every direction, in order, if possible, to arrest the assassins. The whole metropolitan police are likewise vigilant for the same purpose.

The attacks, both at the theatre and at Secretary SEWARD's house, took place at about the same hour—10 o'clock—thus showing a preconcerted plan to assassinate those gentlemen. Some evidence of the guilt of the party who attacked the President are in the possession of the police.

Vice-President JOHNSON is in the city, and his headquarters are guarded by troops.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 14, 11:15 P. M.

A stroke from Heaven laying the whole of the city in instant ruins could not have startled us as did the word that broke from Ford's Theatre a half hour ago that the President had been shot. It flew everywhere in five minutes, and set five thousand people in swift and excited motion on the instant.

It is impossible to get at the full facts of the case, but it appears that a young man entered the President's box from the theatre, during the last act of the play of "Our American Cousin," with pistol in hand. He shot the President in the head and instantly jumped from the box upon the stage, and immediately disappeared through the side scenes and rear of the theatre, brandishing a dirk knife and dropping a kid glove on the stage.

The audience heard the shot, but supposing it fired in the regular course of the play, did not heed it till Mrs. LINCOLN's screams drew their attention. The whole affair occupied scarcely half a minute, and then the assassin was gone. As yet he has not been found.

The President's wound is reported mortal. He was at once taken into the house opposite the theatre.

As if this horror was not enough, almost the same moment the story ran through the city that Mr. SEWARD had been murdered in his bed.

Inquiry showed this to be so far true also. It appears a man wearing a light coat, dark pants, slouch hat, called and asked to see Mr. SEWARD, and was shown to his room. He delivered to Major SEWARD, who sat near his father, what purported to be a physician's prescription, turned, and with one stroke cut Mr. SEWARD's throat as he lay on his bed, inflicting a horrible wound, but not severing the jugular vein, and not producing a mortal wound.

In the struggle that followed, Major SEWARD was also badly, but not seriously, wounded in several places. The assassin rushed down stairs, mounted the fleet horse on which he came, drove his spurs into him, and dashed away before any one could stop him.

Reports have prevailed that an attempt was also made on the life of Mr. STANTON.

MIDNIGHT.

The President is reported dead. Cavalry and infantry are scouring the city in every direction for the murderous assassins, and the city is overwhelmed with excitement. Who the assassins were no one knows, though every body supposes them to have been rebels.

SATURDAY MORNING—1 O'CLOCK.

The person who shot the President is represented as about 30 years of age, five feet nine inches in height, sparely built, of light complexion, dressed in dark clothing, and having a genteel appearance. He entered the box, which is known as the State box, being the upper box on the right hand side from the dress-circle in the regular manner, and shot the President from behind, the ball entering the skull about in the middle, behind, and going in the direction of the left eye; it did not pass through, but apparently broke the frontal bone and forced out the brain to some extent. The President is not yet dead, but is wholly insensible, and the Surgeon-General says he cannot live till day-break. The assassin was followed across the stage by a gentleman, who sprang out from an orchestra chair. He rushed through the side door into an alley, thence to the avenue and mounted a dark bay horse, which he apparently received from the hand of an accomplice, dashed up F, toward the back part of the city. The escape was so sudden that he effectually eluded pursuit. The assassin cried "sic sempre" in a sharp, clear voice, as he jumped to the stage, and dropped his hat and a glove.

Two or three officers were in the box with the President and Mrs. LINCOLN, who made efforts to stop the assassin, but were unsuccessful, and received some bruises. The whole affair, from his entrance into the box to his escape from the theatre, occupied scarcely a minute, and the strongest of the action found everybody wholy unprepared. The assault upon Mr. SEWARD appearse to have been made almost at the same moment as that upon the President. Mr. SEWARDS wound is not dangerous in itself, but may prove so in connection with his recent injuries. The two assassins have both endeavored to leave the city to the northwest, apparently not expecting to strike the river. Even so low down as Chain Bridge, cavalry have been sent in every direction to intercept them.

SATURDAY, 1:30 o'clock A. M.

The President still lies insensible. Messrs. STANTON, WELLS, MCCULLOCH, SPEED and USHER are with him, as also the Vice-President, the Surgeon-General, and other Surgeons.

There is a great throng about the house, even at this hour.

2 o'clock A. M.

The President still lives, but lies insensible, as he has since the first moment, and no hopes are entertained that he can survive.

The most extravagant stories prevail, among which one is to effect, that Gen. GRANT was shot while on his was to Philaphia, of course this is not true.

Another is, that every member of Mr. SEWARD's family was wounded in the struggle with the assassin there. This also is untrue. Mr. FRED. SEWARD, the Assistant Secretary, and Major CLARENCE SEWARD, of the army, were wounded, neither of them dangerously.

THE CONDITION OF THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, April 15—2:12 A. M.

The President is still alive; but he is growing weaker. The ball is lodged in his brain, three inches from where it entered the skull. He remains insensible, and his condition is utterly hopeless.

The Vice-President has been to see him; but all company, except the members of the Cabinet and of the family, is rigidly excluded.

Large crowds still continue in the street, as near to the house as the line of guards allows.

THE SIEGE OF MOBILE.

Fierce Bombardment of the Spanish Fort—Mobile Papers Announce the Capture of Selma.

A special dispatch to the New-Orleans Times, from the Spanish Fort, dated April 5, says:

"A furious fire was opened on the rebel forts last night from our entire line. During the bombardment a small magazine in the Spanish Fort exploded. The damage is unknown. Quiet prevailed on the 5th. Deserters report from 18,000 to 20,000 troops in and about Mobile, including all the State Reserves, and about 2,000 in the Spanish Fort. The loss outside the Spanish Fort up to the 4th instant amounted to about 500 killed and wounded. The rebel loss exceeds ours."

Adjt.-Gen. THOMAS arrived at New-Orleans on the morning of the 7th.

Mobile papers of the 4th inst. announce the capture of Selma, Alabama, with 23 pieces of artillery, and a large amount of Government property.

Fort Sumter Celebration in Bangor.

BANGOR, Me., Friday, April 14.

The restoration of the Old Flag to Fort Sumter was celebrated here to-day by a national salute at noon, by a display of all the flags on public and private buildings, and by the raising of the Stars and Stripes one thousand feet above the city by means of a monster kite bearing the name of U. S. GRANT.

THE STONEWALL AFFAIR.

A Lisbon dispatch, of the 31st of March, says that the American Minister at Lisbon has demanded satisfaction of the Portuguese Government for the firing upon the Niagara and Sacramento by the Portuguese forts. He also requests the dismissal of the Commander of Fort Belan, and a salute of twenty-one guns to the American flag.

Nothing as yet has been decided in regard to the matter.

A PROPHECY FROM RICHMOND.

The correspondent of the London Times, writing from Richmond on the 4th of March, says:

"I am daily more convinced that if Richmond falls and LEE and JOHNSTON are driven from the field, it is but the first stage of this colossal revolution which will then be completed. There will ensue a time when every important town of the South will require to be held by a Yankee garrison, when exultation in New-York will be exchanged for soberness and right reason, and when it will be realized that the closing scenes of this mightiest revolutionary drama will not be played out, save in the times of our children's children."

GREAT BRITAIN.

Parliamentary proceedings on the 30th ult. were unimportant.

In the House of Commons, on the 31st, Lord C. PAGET said that the Admiralty had received no proposal for sanctioning or supporting any fresh attempt to reach the North Pole. He was, therefore, unable to say what course the government would take if such a proposal were made.

Mr. NEWDEGATE put some questions as to the idea of the Pope taking up his residence in England, as indicated in some foreign journals.

Lord PALMERSTON replied that the government respected the Pope personally very much, but for him to come to England would be both an anachronism and a solecism.

The revenue returns for the financial year, ending March 31, show a net increase of over £104,000 on the year. Notwithstanding the great reductions in taxation, the revenue exceeds by nearly half a million sterling the estimates of Mr. GLADSTONE.

Messrs. BARING's circular says that large business has been done in 5-20 bonds, and that prices advanced early in the week to 57½@58, but have since relapsed to 56¾@57—the demand being chiefly from the continent.

On Friday, the telegrams per the steamship Cuba were received, and 5 20s again advanced to 57¾@58¼. Erie and Illinois Central Shares have also attracted attention, and have again advanced.

The Bank of England on the 30th ult. reduced its rate of discount to 4 per cent., at which there is a fair demand for money. This movement strengthened the English funds, and Consols are buoyant and advancing.

KELSON, TRITTON & Co., East India and general merchants, have suspended payment. Their liabilities are estimated at £900,000 sterling.

Another provincial bank has suspended, the Portsmouth and South Hants Banking Company. Their liabilities are about £170,000 sterling.

The Birmingham and Joint Stock Banking Company had agreed to take up the business of Atwood & Spooner's Bank, which lately suspended at Birmingham, and to pay the creditors 11s. 3d. on the pound.

The West India Mail steamer had arrived, with over two and a quarter millions of dollars in specie. She also brought several Captains of blockade-runners, whose occupations were gone.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

The French Government will probably send one or two steamers to accompany the two that are sent by the English Government with the Great Eastern across the Atlantic, at the time of laying the Atlantic cable, and it is hoped that the United States Government will do the same.

FRANCE.

Weekly returns from the Bank of France show an increase of cash on hand of over ten and a half millions francs.

In the French Chambers of the 30th, M. JULES FAVRE spoke upon the necessity for political liberty, but was interrupted by the President and declined to finish his speech. The amendment was rejected.

The amendment in favor of the liberty of the press was debated, but rejected by a large majority.

It is stated that NAPOLEON will leave Paris early in May, not returning until November. His physicians have recommended seven months' absence in the country air.

The Bourse is firm, 67.45.

SPAIN.

The Epoca states that the Minister of War tendered his resignation, and that Gen. LERSUNDI refused to place him.

A later dispatch says the Minister of War resigned from ill health.

Gen. RIVERA succeeded to the office.

DENMARK.

The King relieved M. HELLEEN, Minister of Justice, of his functions. HELLEEN represented the alliance between the Reactionary and extreme Democratic parties. It is supposed that all members of the late Cabinet will return to their posts.

ITALY.

In the allocutions delivered at the last consistory the Pope expressed surprise and sorrow at the sad events which have recently taken place in Mexico. His Holiness hoped MAXIMILIAN would abandon the course upon which he had entered, and satisfy the just desires of the Holy See. The Pope further thanked the Bishops of the Catholic world, especially those of Italy, for defending the religion and liberties of the Church, despite the decrees of the secular authorities.

PRUSSIA.

In the Military Committee of Chambers, the Deputies amendment was introduced with the object of effecting a reconciliation between the government and chamber, and proposing a maximum strength of the army at 180,000 men, which was rejected by 11 to 8. The committee also rejected the general military estimates and navy estimates and amendments, thus refusing the whole military and naval proposals of the government.

AUSTRIA.

Count MENSDORFF had made some ministerial explanation in the Lower House Reichsrath. He said the views of the government on the question of the Duchies would be communicated to the Federal Diet on the 6th of April.

As regards relations with Italy, he said the government desired to promote the material interests of the two countries, but that Italy maintained a hostile attitude to the government. He desired to economize, but must maintain the position of Austria as a great Power.

The Times to-day has an editorial on the amended tariff law of the United States. It says: "It is impossible to find an excuse for it. Tried by the light of reason or by the results of experience it is alike condemned."

It ironically credits the framers of the scheme with peculiar wisdom in selecting the 1st of April for its inauguration.

The Army & Navy Gazette says: "The work of the United States Navy has now been accomplished, and it must be confessed that in the hands of FARRAGUT and PORTER the high reputation which the officers and seamen of that Power established soon after the national existence of itself, has been greatly enhanced."

LAW REPORTS.

Criminal Business.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before Recorder Hoffman.

Assistant District-Attorney Robert C. Hutchings for the people.

John Wyman and Lizzie Beridan were tried for grand larceny yesterday morning, the indictment charging them with stealing $200 from a discharged soldier.

Frank Dell testified that he had served three years in the army, but had been recently discharged and paid off; he came to the city and staid at the Soldiers' Home in Howard-street; one evening in March last, complainant was sauntering up Mercer-street, when he met the prisoner, John Wyman, and went with him to a saloon to take a drink; at the saloon Wyman introduced him to the female prisoner, and the whole party took a hack and drove around the city to see the sights; when he got into the hack complainant had $200 in his pocket, when he left the hack his money was gone.

On cross-examination witness stated that he had been drinking a good deal, and that he left the hack several times, and went into various saloons and houses.

Thomas Norton, the driver of the hack, testified that he took the party out for a drive; they rode around for several hours; part of the time Wyman, the prisoner, rode on the box with witness; Wyman told witness that the complainant had some money with him, and he thought he could get it out of his pocket before they got through.

Wyman was convicted, and the woman acquitted.

PROMPT JUSTICE.

James Mullen, an English pickpocket, was brought up to plead to a charge of grand larceny from the person. Mullen had only been in this country about three weeks. On Wednesday last prisoner went to Trinity Church, where a large number of spectators had assembled to witness the funeral of Brig.-Gen. Winthrop. Pressing through the crowd he pushed against Capt. McGown, of the regular army, and as he passed him he grabbed the Captain's watch and endeavored to run away. The Captain, however, seized him, and, in spite of a blow from the prisoner, held on to him until a policeman relieved him of his charge. The watch was found upon Mullen's person, and the same afternoon he was taken before Justice Dowling for examination. Understanding that Capt. McGown was obliged to leave the city soon, Justice Dowling committed Mullen for trial, and the same evening sent the papers to the District-Attorney's office. An indictment was found against the thief at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and at 12 o'clock he was arraigned and pleaded guilty. Recorder Hoffman said to the prisoner that he was determined to make examples of all men of his class, viz.: foreign criminals, who come over here for the express purpose of robbing our citizens, and he should therefore send him to the State Prison for five years. Thus, in twenty hours after the commission of his crime, this man was on his way to the State Prison.

The Court adjourned until Monday morning.

A REMARKABLE PIECE OF MECHANISM.—A number of Union mechanics, from the rebel prisons, now at the hospital of the Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon, brought with them from Dixie a piece of their handiwork, well worth special mention. It consists of a clock, made by several ingenious fellows, to wile away their weary hours, at Salisbury, N. C., during their imprisonment last Winter. The mainspring is made from the blade of a sabre which once belonged to Stonewall Jackson. The hair-spring and balance-wheel were taken from the telegraph-office time-piece at Andersonville, Ga. The hands are made of a toasting-fork from the kitchen of Vice-President Stephens. The wheels are made from the mountings of carriages, &c., of prominent Southerners. The pillars which connect the frame are made of a ramrod, and nearly all the parts are taken from something picked up in the Confederacy, and have more or less romance attached to them. A saw used in constructing this interesting little piece of mechanism was made of a table-knife, and files, jack-knives, &c., used in making rings, were often called into requisition by the anxious workmen. Should this meet the eye of any of the returned prisoners who were patients in hospital No. 2, it will remind them very forcibly of A. H., and his "perpetual motion."—Philadelphia N. American.

A YEAR OF STORMS.—The present year is thus far marked by violent and unusual storms. In India, the terrible cyclone that destroyed so many lives was the precursor of other convulsions of nature throughout the world. In Scotland, the severity of the Winter and depth of the snow were very severe and remarkable. In our own land, the Spring freshets were attended with great loss of property and of life. On the English coast, the Winter storms wrecked many a vessel, freighted with goods and precious lives, and in February last a most destructive flood visited the Mauritius; torrents of water rushed down the mountains about Port Louis with a fury known only to tropical climes, and before evening the water was five or six feet in depth in the commercial part of the town; more than half a million dollars' worth of property was destroyed, and many lives lost. Recently we have seen the same turbulence of nature manifested in the breaking up of the ice on the St. Lawrence at Montreal.

MONETARY AFFAIRS.

FRIDAY, April 14—P. M.

This was a close holiday on the Stock Exchange and in the Gold-Room, for Good Friday. The Banks were open as usual to 3 o'clock P. M., but no large amount of business was done at any of them down town. The Government Stock Brokers on Wall-street were also comparatively idle. The advanced quotation for U. S. 5 20s by the Halifax steamer caused sellers "to arrive" to move with caution, and prices were ½@¾ ℔ cent. better than the lowest sales of last night. The transactions were at 106½@107 ℔ cent. Other Gold-bearing Stocks were about the same as yesterday. The long 6 ℔ cents of 1881 are scarce on the Street. In Gold, the Street sales were at 145½@106 ℔ cent. In the Railways, Erie 70½@70¾, and other descriptions firm in proportion.

We take pleasure in giving place to the following communication in reference to the late Mr. RIVES, whose foreign investments were referred to a few days ago. No injustice was intended by our animadversion on a telegraph item which attracted our notice, because it referred to a gentleman whom we had regarded while living as a good friend of the Government to which he owed his fortune.

Commissioner LEWIS, of the Internal Revenue Bureau at Washington, has written the following letter relative to the returns of dividends in the pending assessment of the income tax:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, April 11, 1865.

SIR: I deem it proper, in view of the pending assessment of the income tax, to call your especial attention to those changes in the 116th and 117th sections of the Revenue Law which relate to the tax upon income derived from bank dividends, interest upon railroad bonds, &c.

Under former laws you will remember that income derived from these sources, upon which a tax had been paid directly to this office, was deducted from the gross income of the tax-payer, while by the act of March 3, 1865, it is provided that, in ascertaining the income of any person liable to an income tax, the amount received from institutions whose officers, as required by law, withhold a per centum of the dividends made by such institutions, and pay the same to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, or other officer authorized to receive the same, shall be included; and the amount so withheld shall be deducted from the tax which otherwise would be assessed upon such person.

Although sections 120 and 122 clearly contemplate that the government shall receive five per cent. of the whole amount paid out by any of the companies enumerated on account of dividends or interest upon bonds, it has been contended by some companies that as they were merely authorized and not required to withhold the tax from such dividends or interest, it was competent for them to pay the tax and charge the same to their expense account, and make the payment to the stockholder or bondholder free of tax. The result of this construction is to give the government $5 for every $100 paid to the stockholder or bondholder, instead of $5 for every $95 thus paid.

This view has been insisted upon by some companies, and they have consequently refused to withhold the tax from their dividends, and have paid to this office but 5-105 of the amount actually appropriated to their dividends, instead of 5-100, as is plainly intended by the law.

Where any company has thus refused to withhold the tax from its dividends, it is clear that the provision quoted above from section 116 has no application, and you will therefore be particular to inquire as to this point, whenever any taxpayer claims a deduction from his income tax upon this account. If it appears that the tax has not been withheld the deduction should not be allowed.

It should be borne in mind, however, that it has been the practice with some companies to declare their dividends nominally free of tax, while in reality the tax has been withheld and fully paid to this office; that is to say, if the stockholder has received $95 and the government $5, or if the stockholder has received $100 and the government $5 26, the tax has been practically withheld, whatever name may have been given to the transaction. If, on the other hand, the stockholder has received $100 and the government but $5, the tax has not been withheld, and no deduction should be allowed. The same principles will apply to the case of dividends paid prior to the passage of the act of June 30, 1864.

If you are unable to ascertain the manner in which payment has been made by any institution to any of its stockholders resident in your district, you can obtain full information by communication with this office. Very respectfully,

JOSEPH J. LEWIS, Commissioner.

The Late John C. Rives—British Consols.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In the column of the TIMES devoted to monetary affairs, appeared a most unjust animadversion on the character of the late JOHN C. RIVES, of Washington, in connection with transactions in English Consols, which should be corrected, and I beg to state that whatever may have been his motive for making the investment as therein stated, it was done before this war came upon us, before investment in government stocks could have been considered an evidence of patriotism, and before he, or any one else, had any fears for the safety of the Union, or lack of confidence in its self-sustaining power. No one during the war had greater confidence as to its successful termination, and no one, according to his means, contributed more munificently than he, directly and indirectly, to its successful prosecution. Let me add, that his donations for patriotic purposes amounted to many thousand of dollars, and his well-known solicitude for the personal weal of the sick and wounded soldiers and their families, in and around Washington, are matters of public notoriety, at least in that city; and had he been a man desirous of letting his right hand know what his left did, praise of him would have been as universally chanted as has the name of more wealthy men who have done less. To conclude, JNO. C. RIVES has been heretofore rightly esteemed as a sterling, confiding patriot, and was as free from sordidness, as he was open, frank and honest in all his sayings and doings.

The movements in Wheat in Milwaukee, week ending with April 11, Mr. GEORGE J. JONES notices thus: "The tendency of the Wheat market has been upward all through the week, and prices at the close show an advance of fully 8c. ℔ bushel. The receipts are gradually increasing, though still very light compared with last year's. This is chiefly owing to the high rates of freight demanded by the railroad companies, which holders of grain, bought principally at high figures, are unwilling to pay. The weather has been for the greater part favorable for sowing, and it is estimated that about one-third of the seed is now in. We learn that considerable of the prairie lands are still too wet for working, but that should we continue to have good weather the farmers will be mostly through by the 20th inst. No engagements in Lake freights have yet taken place. There are a number of vessels here ready to load at about 13c. on Wheat to Buffalo, and 19c. to Oswego. The stock of Wheat in store, reported yesterday, is 503,812 bushels. We quote No. 1 Spring Wheat, in store, subject to 4c. ℔ bushel storage to 1st May next, at $1 11¼; No. 2 at $1 05. No. 1 Spring, bought at to-day's prices and held for shipment on reopening of navigation, could probably be laid down at New-York at about $1 50, exclusive of interest and commission. THE NEWEST AND BEST PATENT CRINOLINE YET INVENTED.
THE BON-TON PATENT FLEXIBLE SPRING SKIRT.

This invention entirely dispenses with the old and disagreeable manner of fastening by gum, glue and rivets, and consists of a new and useful manner of securing the tapes and wires together by means of a braid passing under and through the tape, and through and round the covering of the wire, thereby forming a knot, rendering it the most perfect fastening yet discovered.

The wire used is made from the best refined watch spring steel, and by the peculiar manner of rolling produces the necessary flexibility, without sacrificing any of the strength which it is well known a single bar has over a plurality of bars covering the same surface.

The covering of the wire used in this skirt is a fine double thread cotton yarn; the tape a two-inch extra heavy solid edge; the pads, or covering of the ends of the bustle spring, are of the finest enameled kid; and with our new application for lacing the fronts, rendering the bustle springs when worn the same as a whole or continued springs, thereby keeping the front of the skirt fitting closely and neatly to the form.

We claim that for superiority of materials it is not excelled, and for beauty of shape and durability it has no equal.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

NOW READY,
THE GREAT CYCLOPÆDIA OF ART,
SPOONER'S DICTIONARY.
NEW AND ENLARGED EDITION.

A BIOGRAPHICAL HISTORY OF THE FINE ARTS; OR, MEMOIRS OF THE LIVES AND WORKS OF EMINENT PAINTERS, ENGRAVERS, SCULPTORS AND ARCHITECTS—From the Earliest Ages to the Present Time. Alphabetically Arranged and Condensed from the best Authorities, including the Works of Vasari, Lanzi, Kugler, Dr. Waagen, Bryan, Pilkington, Walpole, Sir C. Eastlake and Mrs. Jameson. With Chronological Tables of Artists and their Schools. Plates of Monograms, etc. By S. SPOONER, M. D. Two vols., royal 8vo, half bound, gilt top, Roxburgh style, $10; or half calf, extra, $15.

The voluminousness of the literature of art has heretofore limited its study, but a growing interest is felt in the subject that will not be repressed. The scope of the present work, in which is contained the history of the art of design, related in the lives of the principal painters, sculptors, architects and engravers of all nations, is novel, and no pains have been spared that could tend to assure its accuracy. The collection of monograms and artists' devices is the most copious ever inserted in any biographical work. The matter embraced in these two large and compactly printed volumes could hardly be contained in ten ordinary octavos.

ALSO, BY THE SAME AUTHOR:
ANECDOTES OF PAINTERS, ENGRAVERS, SCULPTORS AND ARCHITECTS, AND CURIOSITIES OF ART.
BY S. SPOONER, M. D.,
Author of a "Biographical History of the Fine Arts."
Three volumes, 12mo, half bound, gilt top, Roxburgh style, $4 50.

Poor old Jeff.
The game you've lost and Abe has won,

You'd better just throw up the thing,
And take what's called "leg bail,"
For if you're caught, you're bound to swing,
Poor old Jeff.

Chorus—It's all up in Dixie,
It's all up in Dixie,
The jig is up in Dixie Land,
LET UNION STAND FOREVER.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Maj.-Gen. Hancock, in apprizing the citizens of the Middle Department, says, evidently with reference to Mosby's guerrillas: "The marauding bands which have so long infested this section, subsisting on the plunder of the defenceless, effecting no great military purpose, and bringing upon you the devastation of your homes, must no longer find shelter and concealment among you. Every outrage committed by them, will be followed by the severest infliction, and it is the purpose of the Major-General Commanding to destroy utterly the haunts of these bands if their depredations are continued."

Dates from our forces before Mobile are to the 5th. On the previous night Spanish Fort was severely bombarded, and a small magazine in it was exploded, but the damage was not known. Deserters report eighteen to twenty thousand rebel troops in and near Mobile. Our losses so far have been about 500 killed and wounded. Mobile papers admit the capture of Selma, with 23 guns and much government property.

Gov. Morton, of Indiana, has just received from Lieut. Parks, of the Twelfth Indiana, the identical flag which waved over the capitol at Columbia, S. C., at the time that city was captured by Sherman's forces. He has deposited the trophy in the State Library.

The batteries which were encamped in the vicinity of Frederick City, Md., all the Winter, were ordered away the early part of last week, and have gone to join Gen. Hancock's forces in the Shenandoah Valley.

The Richmond Whig, of Thursday, says: "The Provost Marshal's office is crowded with people anxious to take the oath of allegiance, and the only question among citizens seems to be who shall be first to secure their citizenship."

The rebel Col. Forrest has arrived at Memphis under a flag of truce, for the purpose of conferring with Gen. Washburne upon the subject of exterminating guerrillas. The result of the conference is not known.

The people of Kentucky are hunting down guerrillas with such zeal that the business is pretty much stopped, and offenders are skulking away in any disguise that can be made available.

The Mediterranean Squadron, under Admiral Goldsborough, is to comprise 30 vessels, the Colorado, 52 guns, to be the flagship.

Gov. Curtin is at Richmond, attending to the wants of the sick and wounded Pennsylvania soldiers.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, yesterday, the Annual Supply Bill was reported. A report against the retention of the present Commissioners of Charities and Correction was agreed to. A report was received from the committees to investigate municipal frauds in New-York. The Governor sent a veto on the Dry Dock Railroad Bill. Bills were passed to relieve the Croton Aqueduct; incorporate the New Rochelle Savings Bank; to to incorporate the Long Island Savings Band; to incorporate the Harry Howard Association of Exempt Firemen; to consolidate the Brooklyn and Carnarsie and Bergen-street Railroads. The New-York Central Railroad Fare Bill was adopted, after a sharp contest, by 18 to 14.

In the Assembly reports were made on bills: For the erection of a new Capitol; to provide grounds for a final resting-place for the remains of New-York Volunteers, who fell at Gettysburgh and Antietam; to incorporate the Students' Aid Society of the New-York Free Academy. A bill was passed relative to the marks on casks and packages containing butter and cheese. The Metropolitan Health Bill was then taken up, and after a long and exciting contest it was finally defeated. Yeas, 51; nays, 61.

GENERAL NEWS.

Gov. Fletcher, of Missouri, named April 15 (to-day) as the occasion for popular rejoicing. In his proclamation he recommends "that on that day the people, regardless of all differences of opinion in the past, meet in their respective places of worship, and unite in religious exercises, the evening of the day to be marked by large assemblages, to be addressed by patriotic speakers, and that, amid bonfires, illuminations and resounding salutes of artillery, they testify their appreciation of the heroism of the army of the Union in the reëstablishment of the National authority in Richmond, the seat of the insurgent forces, the capture of the Army of Northern Virginia, and of the manifestations of a disposition on the part of men in authority to stay the effusion of blood of Americans and freemen."

The Sandusky Register says: "We happened to be on Johnson's Island, Friday evening, when the extras were received announcing the late Union victories. As is usual on such occasions, the news was placed on the bulletin board in the bull pen, (prison for rebel soldiers,) for the benefit of the Johnnies. Among the oath-takers in block number one, the news was received with loud and repeated cheering and other demonstrations of joy. In other portions of the prison they affected not to believe it. The old flag was raised and lustily cheered by the oath-takers, whilst the regular secesh hissed it."

The St. Joseph Union learns that a wretched state of affairs exists in Lafayette, Chariton, Ray, Carroll, Clay, and part of Platte, Mo. A man named Creal, living near Waverley, was murdered by banditti, one day last week. The people of Carrolton had been alarmed at a threatened attack from Thornton, at the head of a band of twenty or thirty men. Many persons had left that section. On the 1st inst., Thomas Tinsley, residing near Smithville, was killed, and two others taken prisoners, and afterward summarily dealt with.

A ruffian named Warren Martin, who signs himself "Young Hell-yan, of Callaway County," killed two negro men in the vicinity of Cote Sans Desseir, Mo., some days since. He also so frightened a negro woman that she ran off and is supposed to have fallen in the river and drowned, as nothing had been heard from her since. He was alone when he killed the negroes, and gave as a reason for his atrocity, that they had left their masters.

The French bark Eugene, of Marseilles, with a cargo of about 3,000 bags of coffee, 2,000 pieces of mahogany, about 12,000 pounds of wax, 1,800 dried hides, and about 30 tons of logwood, was totally wrecked on the northeast point of Great Inagua on the morning of the 25th of February. The captain and part of the crew were saved; the mate and two seamen were drowned.

LOCAL NEWS.

The announcement, yesterday, that the draft and recruiting were suspended in this city by order of the Secretary of War, was joyfully received by every one except the bounty-brokers. A salute of one hundred guns was fired at the County Volunteer Committee's Rooms, and it was announced that the business of the office was at an end. The whole amount expended by the committee is about $8,000,000—of which about $2,000,000 is to be refunded by the State.

The few surviving Revolutionary pensioners—only four or five in all—have been invited to join the citizens' celebration in this city, to come off in a few days. One of them has already arrived, Samuel Downing, of Saratoga County, N. Y., and is at the Astor House. He is 104 years old, and his loyalty has grown with his years, ever since at that memorable morning at Lexington, in April, ninety years ago.

The strike at the Navy-yard continues, and about 3,500 men refuse to work at the reduced rates of 25 to 50 cents per day. They have sent a committee to Washington to state their case; but the prospect of a return to the old wages at a moment when the government is curtailing work everywhere, would seem to be slight.

Notwithstanding the postponement of our general celebration in consequence of the Sumter anniversary falling on Good Friday, the cities of New-York and Brooklyn were profusely adorned with the national colors; salutes were fired, bells were rung, and the people seemed thoroughly jolly in view of the event in Charleston Harbor, and the near advent of peace.

John Schon, a wine merchant living at No. 269 William-street, and Christian Schultz, a jeweler living at No. 6 Roosevelt-street, were arrested yesterday on a charge of setting fire to the store No. 176 William-street. Schultz has made a confession admitting his guilt, and implicating the prisoner Schon.

The popular demand for the Seven-Thirty Loan continues quite active. The daily average of subscriptions to the loan is a rising one, being this week up to $3,199,137, (as against the daily average of only $2,512,433 last week, and $2,381,360 the preceding week,) as follows: Monday, $2,873,650; Tuesday, $3,132,400; Wednesday, $3,526,000; Thursday, $3,264,500. The orders for the $50 and $100 notes of the loan, thus far this week, have averaged 2,241 a day, as against the daily average of 1,650 last week, and 1,652 the preceding week. At the present rate of distribution, the sales of the loan through the entire of the current week will reach nearly $20,000,000, as against only about $15,000,000 last week, and about $14,000,000 the preceding week.

Good Friday was observed with unusual unanimity in commercial circles yesterday. Business in Produce and Merchandise was partially suspended. At the Produce Exchange transactions were quite light. Spring Wheat and New Mess Pork were dearer. Whisky was decidedly cheaper. The changes in other articles were not important.

The Record of New-York.—At the moment when Secretary Stanton announced the end of drafting and recruiting throughout the country, New-York City was supplying volunteers for the national army at the rate of forty-six thousand a year. This the city was doing under most disadvantageous circumstances, arising from the insufficiency of the available State bounty fund, the hectoring of petty military officials, and their refusal latterly, to allow substitutes to be mustered in by the County Volunteer Committee. Last, as well as first in the grand national struggle, New-York presents a record that no other community in the Union can show. It is almost time that this fact was generally recognized.

The events of last night in Washington will strike with profound horror the whole American people. At this moment of writing, we have only a partial announcement of the facts, and have neither the data nor the spirit for comment.

The Change to Peace—The First Movement.

Probably no act of the Government of the United States was ever received by its people with profounder satisfaction than the general order, just issued, stopping all drafting and recruiting, and announcing the speedy reduction of all branches of the military establishment. It was the first practical earnest that this dreadful war had indeed ended. To tens of thousands of families, who have been for weeks haunted by day and night with the terror of having a father, a son, a brother, taken away from them for years, perhaps forever, it brought a relief which no language can describe. To a vastly greater number of families yet, who for months and years have been in sorrow for the absence of a loved one, and in daily apprehension of tidings of his death, or of a capture entailing horrors worse than death, it brought a hardly less joyful assurance of an early reunion. And then there was the pleasure, hardly worthy to be mentioned, perhaps, in this connection, yet gladly coming home to the "business and bosoms" of millions—the pleasure of being spared any further increase of the burdens of taxation, already very hard to be borne. One of the most wonderful things of this war is the cheerfulness with which the people have met the immense taxes and voluntary contributions necessary to support it. But this cheerfulness was no token that the sacrifice was light. To multitudes that sacrifice trenched far upon the comforts, and even upon the necessaries of life. An intense love of country alone braced the people up to its acceptance. How far it could have continued to augment without reaching that point where endurance is no longer possible, it is impossible to calculate. It is enough that every man feels it to be a great personal blessing to himself that it is to go no further.

It will pass into history as a striking and most admirable fact that the close of this four years' war found the loyal people in the very midst of raising three hundred thousand more men, in addition to the million and a quarter already furnished. Our European enemies have asserted, from the first year of the war, that the war spirit of the North was dying out, and that the time would surely come when it would be impossible to recruit our armies. They have held to this misrepresentation in spite of the fact that every new call made by the President for more soldiers has been responded to with increased promptitude. Had the last months of the war passed without any further effort of the people to fill up their armies, this cry that the spirit of the North was exhausted, though utterly false, would have been beyond any effectual disproof. But the response made to this last call has forever silenced all that. It demonstrates to the world, beyond all possibility of contradiction or cavil, that the close of the war found not only the armies in the field irresistible, but the spirit of the people as firm as ever. This call has cost the country much, with comparatively little practical effect upon the rebellion. The work was finished up almost exclusively by the old troops. But all the new burdens imposed by this call will be requited a hundred fold over, by the new testimony it affords of the moral strength of American loyalty. The world has been amazed that a self-governing people could have so long sustained a war involving such unprecedented sacrifices. But this exhibition, at the very close of the war, of such a reserved power, will be the crowning marvel.

There is, in fact, nothing to impair the completeness or glory of this war, viewed in any aspect. It was protracted enough to show the world the unequaled resources of our republican system and the matchless stamina of our people. It was severe enough to pulverize into powder the adamantine institution of slavery, upon which no earthly thing could previously make an impression. It was carried through to the absolute consummation of its original end—the crushing of the rebellion out of existence by the strong arm without any attempt to compound with it. History rarely shows a piece of national work, even on a minor scale, so well rounded in all its parts, so thoroughly concluded in every particular. And what is a most happy thing, there is no material left behind out of which evil-minded men can hereafter manufacture mischief. Our revolutionary war, and our last war with England, brought out a great difference between different States and different parts of the country, in the exhibition of public spirit and the performance of public duties. The remembrance of this difference was kept alive for many years to produce bitterness and alienation. Nothing of this kind is possible in respect to the present war, for all the loyal States have vied with each other, from the beginning to the end, in maintaining the war; and all their soldiers in the field have fought with the same gallantry and success. The war has redounded alike to the glory of all, and more firmly cemented the common brotherhood.

This war might have been ended without giving satisfaction to the people. Had it been abandoned without securing its object, we should have seen none of the present demonstrations of joy. Even had an unmistakable necessity demanded this, the advent of peace would have brought a humiliation and sorrow which would have swallowed up all the satisfaction that might spring from the cessation of drafts, the return of the absent, the lightening of taxation. The end of the war is hailed first of all, and most of all, because it is the accomplished salvation of the Union.

Treatment of Foreign War Vessels—The President's Proclamation.

The practical import of the President's proclamation, respecting the treatment accorded to the United States vessels of war in foreign ports, is best seen by a reference to the special order of "neutrality" which first subjected our flag to the insult against the continuance of which the proclamation is a protest.

It is needless to say, that in this, as in every other "neutral" project of the last four years, England was at once the exemplar and the leader. On her suggestions all the other powers, whose conduct invites the present protest, regulated their demeanor toward the United States. To her the protest will come home with special appositeness, and from her will come the earliest response.

The order of Lord Russell, by which our men-of-war were put on a footing with the rebel pirates in British ports, has been in force three full years. It was issued from the Foreign Office on the 29th of January, 1862—precisely at the moment when everything looked the gloomiest for the United States in the struggle with the rebellion. The circumstances which, professedly, called for it, made its emission peculiarly offensive to our Government and people. At the date named, the Bahama Islands formed almost the only points which piratical vessels issuing from "Confederate," ports could possibly make an available base for operations against our vast commerce on both the North and South Atlantic highways. These islands formed also the only convenient anchorage-ground for the United States vessels sent out to protect our merchantmen. And it was with the fullest knowledge and appreciation of these facts, that Lord Russell directed the Governor of the islands, through the late Duke of Newcastle, to see that "during the continuance of the present hostilities between the Government of the United States and the States calling themselves the Confederate States of America," none of our ships-of-war should be permitted to enter "any port, or roadstead, or waters of the Bahama Islands, except by special leave of the Governor of the Bahama Islands, or under stress of weather." If, by special leave, or under stress of weather, any one of our vessels did thus enter the Bahama ports, the authorities of the place were to "require her to put to sea as soon as possible, without permitting her to take in any supplies beyond what may be necessary for her immediate use."

The more general declarations of the order, in its application to all parts of Her Britannic Majesty's dominions, were summarily these:

First, that our vessels should not be allowed to resort to any British station or port for warlike equipment; and that twenty-four hours should elapse between the departure of United States and "Confederate" vessels from British ports, in case of their coming to a temporary anchorage therein.]

Second, that if, after the issuing of the order, our vessels did enter any British port, roadstead, &c., they should be required to depart and put to sea within twenty-four hours—unless in case of stress of weather, or of requiring provisions for the subsistence of their crews, or repairs. Twenty-four hours after such necessary supplies and repairs were had, the vessel or vessels were to be ordered to sea.

Third, that no extra supplies, in any case, were to be allowed to be taken on board, and "so much coal only as may be sufficient to carry the vessel to the nearest port of her own country," and "no coal shall be again supplied to such ship in any port, &c., of Her Majesty without special permission, until after the expiration of three months from the time when such coal may have been last supplied to her within British waters."

All these rules will be applied, under the President's proclamation, to British war vessels before May day, unless Lord Russell's order is promptly recalled. The same rule will apply to the vessels of other powers that have copied and practiced the British order. Nothing in the way of diplomacy could well be more neatly done.

Richmond—Mischief-Makers.—The accession of Gen. Ord to the immediate command in Richmond is so directly in the natural order of military arrangements, that it requires no ordinary share of the faculty of malicious invention for a newsmonger to pervert it into a censure of Gen. Weitzel's conduct. A Philadelphia story was allowed to circulate, during the greater part of yesterday, by which it was made to appear that Gen. Weitzel, in giving safe conduct to certain "Confederate" representatives of Virginia to assemble in Richmond, had disobeyed the orders of his superiors. Gen. Weitzel did grant facilities for certain citizens of Virginia to assemble and discuss the question of the readmission of the State into the Union. But the statement that his doing so was the cause of his removal, is simply a mischievous falsehood. We are asked to give the story contradiction, and we readily do so. But the evil its circulation was intended to compass, was done when it was allowed to pass through the hands of the telegraph censor. One would suppose, that if a censorship is any longer necessary or useful, or ornamental, the suppression of such malicious paragraphs as this would have been attended to before it had gone through a hundred different offices, and been put in the hands of probably a million of credulous readers. If Gen. Weitzel had been removed for allowing representative Virginians to meet and deliberate over the return of the State to its allegiance, the inference would be that the War Department was at issue with Gen. Grant, if not also with the President himself. To create such an impression as this, even for a few hours, would temporarily serve no end of schemes. And it would, no less, gratify that class of intemperate politicians who are now bawling—each louder than the other—to have their peculiar theories of reconstruction, of subjugation, of retribution, and so forth, adopted. The mischief-makers here need the closest sort of watching. They are more dangerous, for the time than the disjointed bands of insurgents that still wear the ragged livery of Jeff. Davis.

The Hopes of the South and Its Fate.

The small amount of control which, after all, communities possess over their own destiny, was never more strikingly illustrated than in the catastrophe we have just witnessed at the South.

When the Slave States revolted, it was the opinion of their ablest men that it was the best thing they could do; that slavery was the best basis possible for civil society, and that the best way to preserve slavery was to separate from the North. To carry out this programme, the whole resources of the country were brought into play—men, money, arms and horses. Its ablest soldiers and statesmen moved heaven and earth to further it. Nothing was left undone, that the most fertile invention could devise to bring the revolution to a successful issue. Blood was shed with a profusion never surpassed, and wealth squandered with the most reckless extravagance, and there can be little doubt the great mass of the population did look for its success, did really believe that they would achieve their independence with but little trouble, and that once achieved, the Confederacy would become the dread and envy of all nations.

The result has proved exactly the reverse, in every respect, of what was expected. Slavery, instead of being saved forever, has been completely uprooted; independence has not been achieved, and the fate of the Slave States has been placed in the hands of the Yankees to a degree which no number of peaceful political successes could have rendered possible. The South, so far from becoming the "dread and envy" of the earth, is at this moment an object of general pity—a scene of widespread ruin and devastation. Its armies, its pride and boast, have been defeated, dispersed and captured; its Generals have lost their reputation. So far from raising aristocracy in popular estimation, as an instrument of government, which was one of the great objects of the revolution, it has doomed it everlastingly. Had, in short, the bitterest enemy of the Southern people, and of their institutions, the man most opposed to their political ideas and aspirations, been asked to sit down four years ago, and put on paper what calamities and reverses he would like to see overtake them, he would almost certainly have sketched a state of things vastly less terrible than that which we now witness in the Slave States. A more remarkable illustration of the remorseless certainty with which the great laws of Providence work, is, perhaps, not to be found in history. The law which has brought ruin on the Confederacy, is that no political or social system founded on injustice can stand, and that the horrors attending its overthrow will always be in the ratio of its atrocity.

There are two other great examples of its operation—the downfall of the Roman Empire and the French Revolution; but both of these wanted the close and striking connection of cause and effect which has made the Southern catastrophe so impressive. Two hundred years have seen the growth and overthrow of African slavery, and of the society which it cursed and corrupted. The great Slave Empire of Rome, the greatest, foulest and most barbarous the world has ever seen, ran a course of a thousand years before the sword of the avenger struck it. But then the penalty was a frightful one. The condition of Europe between the years 500 and 800 has never been painted by any historian, but enough is known of it to satisfy us that nothing more awful has ever been witnessed. A great, wealthy, refined and polished community was abandoned to the mercy of roving barbarians for many generations; every spark of civilization came well nigh perishing amongst them. We are told that population diminished or disappeared in many parts of the continent, owing to men's unwillingness to bring children into the world to share a lot as miserable as their own.

The French noblesse exercised their power over the peasantry and abused it in the manner so familiar to all readers for over a thousand years also, and French society atoned for it in that tremendous convulsion which our fathers witnessed, from which Europe, after a lapse of seventy years, still trembles. Fortunately for the South, the remedy has been applied in its case at an earlier stage of the disease, and terrible as it has been, it has fallen far short of rivaling in its horrors either the fall of Rome or the destruction of the old régime. We have had much bloodshed indeed, but it has been nearly all shed in fair fight. We have had no massacres or proscriptions. We have had much destruction of property, but it has been through the ordinary operations of war, and never through wanton love of destruction. And now that this is all over, the victors seem likely to err rather on the side of leniency than of vengeance. We dare not hope that had the Southern leaders succeeded in carrying out their programme and giving the institution of slavery greater permanence and solidity, Southern society would have expiated the crime so lightly. Retribution would have surely come, and it would have been made heavier by every added year of wrong and injustice.

Fatal Accident on Board the Steamship Corsica.

A terrible accident occurred on board the steamship Corsica on her late passage from Havana to this port, which resulted in the death of two persons, and three others seriously injured. It appears that when four hours out from port, a barrel of spirits was about being lowered into the lower hold, when, owing to some wrong management in arranging the slings, the barrel slipped, and fell with great force into the hold, where it immediately burst. The storekeeper, Mr. John Hughes, who was in the hold at the time, with several others, upon seeing the occurrence, went immediately to the barrel, and having a lighted candle in his hand, it set fire to the spirits, which exploded, killing Mr. Hughes instantly, and mortally wounding the carpenter, Mr. L. McNeal, who died last night. Three others of the crew, named Mitchell, Thompson and Murphy, are seriously injured, but will recover.

The passengers held a meeting on board for the relief of the sufferers, whereupon some $800 were subscribed.

IMPORTANT NEWS FROM MEXICO.

Surrender of the Chief Army of Juarez.

Cairo, Ill., Friday, April 14.

A Significant Fact—A Consul for the Mexican Republic Recognized.

Washington, Friday, April 14.

Some of the foreign journals have reported that it is the intention of our government to acknowledge the Mexican Empire. A recent act of the President does not, however, support that assertion, for he has recognized Jose A. Godoy as Consul of the Mexican Republic at San Francisco.

Navigation of the Colorado River—Crops Improving—The Pacific Railroad.

San Francisco, Wednesday, April 12.

Recent explorations have demonstrated that the Colorado River is navigable for small steamers and sailing vessels for six hundred miles above its mouth, to a point within four hundred miles of Salt Lake, and it is quite certain to be the highway of a great trade between Utah, Arizonia, and California.

Recent heavy falls of rain have greatly benefitted the crops throughout California.

The City of San Francisco finaly, after a long and vexatious litigation, has issued her bonds to the amount of $400,000 in aid of the Central Pacific Railroad.

Eighteen hundred laborers are now at work on this enterprize.

The exports of treasure for the quarter just ended show a falling off of about six and a half millions as compared with the same period last year.

San Francisco, Friday, April 14.

The Pacific Mail steamship Sacramento sailed to-day, with a large number of passengers, for New-York, and $1,153,000 in treasure, of which nearly $700,000 go to New-York.

The steamship Moses Taylor sailed for San Juan del Sur with numerous passengers.

The market continues variable and unsettled, and traders pursue a continuous policy. Prices of Eastern goods are slowly falling.

Sailed, ship Flying Eagle for Boston.

The Seven-Thirty Loan.

Philadelphia, Friday, April 14.

Jay Cooke reports the subscriptions to the 7-30 loan to-day $3,642,000, including a single subscription of nearly half a million from New-York, and large Western subscriptions—one from Pittsburgh of $160,000 and one from Chicago 110,000. The number of individual subscriptions for amounts of $50 and $100 was twenty-five hundred.

The Canadian Delegates at Halifax.

Toronto, C. W., Friday, April 14.

A dispatch from Halifax states that the Canadian delegates arrived there last night on board the steamship Asia, on their way to England. They had a public reception, at which speeches were made in favor of the confederation scheme. They were escorted by a procession a mile in length, and much enthusiasm was manifested on the occasion.

A Card from Gen. Carrington.

Cincinnati, Friday, April 14.

Gen. Carrington has published a card saying that the charges against him are all infamous attempts to obliterate the credit of his services in Indiana. His friends say that the matter grew out of a misunderstanding with paymasters, and that all the money for which he is responsible is deposited in the bank ready to be turned over.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

Albany, Friday, April 14.

Mr. Bell thought that the committee had accomplished all the good it can accomplish, and moved that it be discharged.

Messrs. Low and Laimbeer opposed this motion, and the report was laid on the table.

A message was received from the Governor vetoing the Dry Dock, East Broadway and North River Railroad Bill, because he considered the grant too indefinite.

Mr. Van Buren moved to adjourn. Carried—53 to 52.

EVENING SESSION.

THE METROPOLITAN HEALTH BILL.

After spending several hours in the attempt to stave off the motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill was lost, it was finally reached, and the previous question ordered by a vote of 60 to 54. While the question on the reconsideration was being taken

Mr. Clark asked to be excused from voting.

The Speaker said the gentleman was already recorded.

Mr. Clark said he had voted by mistake, having paired off with another member.

Mr. J. L. Parker would excuse the gentleman, providing his request was made in good faith, for the Union party had already been betrayed enough to defeat the bill. Some Union members had proved recreant to every obligation they owed their party.

The Speaker—The gentleman, Mr. N. Clark, will be excused, if there are no objections.

Mr. J. L. Parker—I object.

Mr. N. Clark then voted "No."

The result was announced, and the bill declared lost, by the following vote:

THE REBEL RAM STONEWALL.

Particulars of her Escape from Ferrol.

The mails by the Moravian, via. Portland, reached this city yesterday. They give us the following particulars regarding the REBEL RAM STONEWALL.

Correspondence of the London Herald.

FONDA VISCAINA FERROL, Monday, March 20.

I herein hand you particulars and information concerning the Confederate steam ram Stonewall and the United States frigate Niagara and screw corvette Sacramento, about to take part in a naval engagement off this port. The two last named vessels are at present in Corunna, distant about 11 miles from here. They have both had steam up on board for some weeks past, watching night and day, for the appearance of the Stonewall. The excitement here and in Corunna is immense. The sympathy of the Spaniards is entirely with the Confederates.

The Stonewall put into Corunna on the 21st of February last, from Bordeaux, having experienced bad weather, and sprung a leak aft, about the 3d of February. She came to Ferrol for repairs in the government arsenal here. About ten days after her arrival here the Niagara came in, being followed by the Sacramento the following day. After they had been here for some five days, the admiral commanding requested the Federals to leave the port, which they accordingly did, making for Corunna, where they remained at anchor with steam up until the 14th inst., when they weighed anchor, and cruised about outside the port for about two days; bad weather coming on they again entered Corunna, and are now awaiting the departure of the Stonewall from this place, which would have taken place this morning but for the strong wind that is blowing from SW. One of the officers of the Stonewall has just informed me that they are to steam out to-morrow morning, if weather permits. Capt. PAGE, commanding the ram, arrived here from Paris two days ago, and immediately requested the permission of the Admiral to allow him to leave the port at any moment. The Stonewall is an iron-plated vessel of about 600 tons, having a ram, or prow, forward about 22 feet long; her armament consists of one 300-pounder Armstrong gun, worked from an armor-plated turret, right in the bows of the ship. She has also another armor-plated turret, aft, in which are two 70-pounder Armstrong guns. These three are the only guns she carries. She is built on the twin screw principle; engines about 320-horse power; nominal speed of vessel about 10 miles. Her crew consists of about 16 officers and 80 men, all told; the greater part of them are men who belonged to the Alabama and Florida. Capt. PAGE last night called the crew aft, and after explaining the situation of affairs, said that as the Confederacy had no longer any ports in the Northern States it was useless going to America. All the yards and topmasts have been lowered, and everything on board put in fighting trim. The men would not turn in last night, but were up the whole night singing patriotic songs. All on board are sanguine of success, from the captain downward. It is intended to fire shells only from the large gun. The Federals rely entirely on success by running the ram down or boarding her.

The Niagara is commanded by Commodore CRAVEN. She carries twelve 200-pounder Parrott guns. Her tonnage and horse-power you have probably by you. She steams about twelve miles, but is very long, and cannot turn round in less than half a mile, whereas the ram can turn round in her own length.

The Sacramento carries eleven 200-pounder Parrott guns, and has a crew of about 300 men; the Niagara has a crew of 450 men. It is the general opinion of people here that if the Stonewall can but lodge one of her 300-pound shells in either of the Federals, it will sink them in five minutes.

There are two Spanish frigates waiting to accompany the ram out to sea, in order that no fighting may take place in Spanish waters. The guns in the forts have been got ready for action in case the Federals should attempt to break neutrality.

The Admiral of the station sympathizes with the South, and when taking leave of the Captain of the Stonewall yesterday said he wished him success from his heart.

The excitement of the people here are immense, as I said before. The Federals have made themselves very obnoxious here lately, several of them being in prison in Corunna at the present moment. I know for a fact that one of officers of the Niagara had to make a public apology for having insulted a Spanish officer at a ball in the Carnival. I myself saw three officers turned out of a ball-room. On the contrary, the officers and crew of the Stonewall have gained the good will of the Spaniards by their quiet, gentlemanly conduct, during the whole of their stay.

The wind is blowing very strong at present; I almost fear that the ram cannot leave to-morrow, but will write and advise you later if anything fresh occurs.

PARTICULARS OF HER DEPARTURE FROM FERROL.

Correspondence of the London Herald.

FONDA VISCAINA, FERROL, Spain, March 22.

Since writing you some days past nothing has occurred worth notice concerning the Stonewall and Federal vessels until yesterday, when the former began to get up steam about 9 A. M., Capt. PAGE telling his agent on shore to give notice to the authorities here of his intention to steam round the bay, and, if necessary, to leave the port altogether. About 1 o'clock she left her moorings, took pilot on board, and after steaming about for some time made down the channel or river leading to the sea, getting to the mouth about 2:15 P. M., being then in sight of both the Niagara and Sacramento in Coronna harbor, distant about 6½ miles; both these vessels had steam up, in fact, the Niagara at one time, before the Stonewall came in sight, had steamed just outside the entrance of Corunna harbor, but reëntered very quickly. I may here mention that the Federals were kept constantly advised of the Stonewall's movements the whole day, first by telegraph from Ferrol, and then by signals from the coastguard stations and lighthouse.

The Stonewall, on getting outside, made out to sea, encountering rough weather, some of the seas making right through her bow ports. After being outside about fifty minutes she ventured the channel leading to Ferrol, having been in sight of Corunna at least an hour; but neither of the Federals came out, or made any signs of doing so. The Stonewall had her battle-flag flying at the peak, and was in thorough working order. Her engines, I believe, work admirably. She can make the half circle in less than three minutes; in fact everybody who saw her yesterday was surprised at the quickness of her movements. She steamed a little more than ten miles yesterday, being much faster than was expected.

The Spanish frigate Concepcion accompanied the Stonewall out to sea, in order to prevent any fighting taking place in Spanish waters.

After the ram had been out of sight of Corunna about 25 minutes, the Sacramento steamed out, being followed 20 minutes afterward by the Niagara. They both knew then by signals that the Stonewall was nearly in Ferrol Bay. It is quite evident they did not want to fight or they would have accepted the challenge offered them. They both returned into Corunna in less than 40 minutes. On going on board the Stonewall, late last night, I found she was making some water aft, through the stuffing-box of one of the rudders, but it can easily be made tight this morning. She will go out again to-day, about 1 o'clock, I believe, and there is little doubt but the fight will come off to-day. I think the ram stands a very good chance of success, and that is the opinion of most of the officers and others here and at Corunna. I have heard that the Captain of the steamer Cadiz, from Gibraltar to London, on putting into Corunna, reported that an iron vessel of war, he supposed armor-plated, bore down on him off Cape Finistere. He says he believes her to be a Confederate vessel. I think there is some truth in the report, as I had it from the office of the English Consul in Corunna. There is nothing else that I know of at present.

AFFAIRS IN ALBANY.

The Desperate Contest on the Health Bill—Untiring Efforts to Defeat it—Curious and Exciting Scenes.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

ALBANY, Friday, April 14, 1865.

The most exciting contest that has been witnessed in the Assembly Chamber since the days of the Callicot war, took place in the Assembly, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock to-day.

Since the vote of yesterday, by which the Metropolitan Health Bill failed to pass the Lower House, the opponents of that bill have been scheming and resolving, intent upon improving the first opportunity to get the bill from the table, and, by defeating the motion to reconsider the vote upon its passage, kill the bill beyond resuscitation. An attempt to administer the finishing thrust was made last evening, but was prevented from being successful by a motion prevailing to adjourn. At about 12 o'clock to-day another onset was made. The opponents of the bill proposed to take it from the table; and on this motion the previous question was ordered, by a vote of fifty-five to fifty-one. It was apparant that the final vote, if reached, on the question of reconsidering, would be a very close one. Mr. PARKER, of Cayuga, moved a call of the House. Several members rose and addressed the chair, but Mr. SALMON, of New-York, was recognized by the Speaker. He made the point of order that the previous question having been ordered, no other question could be considered except the one to which the previous question applied. The Speaker held that this point of order was well taken. From this decision Mr. PARKER desired to appeal. Mr. LYONS of New-York, rose to a point of order—that no appeal could be taken under the operation of the previous question. The Speaker decided that this point of order was well taken.

So it was apparent that unless some means could be brought to bear to prevent it, the final vote must be taken and the bill would be lost. Mr. VAN BUREN rose and stated that he proposed to debate the bill. Some eight or ten members, opponents of the bill, sprang to their feet, declaring that such discussion would be out of order. Mr. WEAVER, of Oneida, formally stated the point, that under the operation of the previous question, debate could not be had. Mr. VAN BUREN did not dispute this, but held that the previous question applied only to taking the bill from the table, and not to the final vote on reconsideration. Upon this point being made, a good deal of confusion ensued, members desiring to be recognized, and insisting that they had very important questions that the Speaker ought to rule upon. The Speaker decided that the point of order was well taken, and that the previous question applied only to taking the bill from the table, and not to the pending motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was lost. As the fate of the bill might turn upon this decision, there was much excitement when it was announced. Mr. CREAMER, of New-York, was positive that the Speaker had decided differently on a previous occasion, but the hubbub was so great that it was impossible to hear the point he intended to make. Many members replied to the point he intended to make, "No! no!" The Speaker again stated his decision. At this point of the proceedings Mr. GLEASON, of Suffolk, called for the clearing of the lower lobby, in accordance with resolutions adopted in the early part of the session, providing that gentlemen not accompanied by ladies should be excluded from its privileges. The Speaker ordered the lower lobby cleared, and this was speedily done. The pending question while all this was in progress was, upon taking the bill with the motion to reconsider the vote by which it was lost, from the table. The skirmishers finally rested, and allowed the motion to be put by the Speaker.

Mr. PARKER, of Cayuga, called for the yeas and nays, and the question was so voted upon. When the name of Mr. BRANDRETH was called, he desired to be excused from voting. He is well known as one of the strongest advocates of the bill, and his asking to be excused was understood to be simply a move to gain time. After he had exhausted his five minutes in talking, therefore, to which time he was limited by the rules, the opponents of the bill carried the vote to excuse him in the affirmative. This was deemed a triumph by those intent upon killing the bill, as there would be one vote less against taking the bill from the table for the purpose of killing it. Hence, when Mr. BRANDRETH was declared excused, there was a little expression of applause on the part of the opposition. The vote on excusing him stood 55 to 47. The opponents of the bill, it will be seen, had it their own way. They were very confident, and gathered in groups around the floor, as did also the friends of the bill, talking excitedly, and devising every means to carry the point, for or against. When the vote should be declared, on taking the bill and motion to reconsider from the table, the operation of the previous question, according to the ruling of the Speaker, would cease, and any motion would then be in order, which should be made in accordance with parliamentary rules. Members therefore stood ready on the watch, some grouped around the Speaker's desk, and some in groups further back, waiting for the roll-call to be completed. No further interruption of the roll-call occurred, except that Mr. SQUIRES, of Cortland, asked to be excused from voting. Mr. SQUIRES is regarded generally as a friend of the bill, out one of those who shun the responsibility of voting for it. Mr. PARKER, of Cayuga, was very desirous that the gentleman from Cortland should give some reason why he wished to be excused, but he did not, and the opposition excused him as they had excused Mr. BRANDRETH. When the roll-call was completed, those members who had kept count informed others that the vote to take the bill from the table had prevailed by two or three majority. The absentees were called, and members desired the name of this or that gentleman to be called, who had not voted. The decision depended upon two or three votes. As the votes were thus far, in favor of those who were intent upon killing the bill, and, as at intervals votes were still added one way or the other, the majority became clamorous for the announcement of the vote. The Speaker announced the vote fifty-three to fifty-one, and the Health Bill was taken up, apparently for its final execution. The next point in the game was to get in the first motion; for now the previous question was exhausted in its operation. Members appreciated this point, and stood ready with their mouths open, when the moment for action came. A dozen or so started off in prolonged addresses of a very earnest character, demanding that the speaker should hear and attend to what they had to say. Mr. WEAVER, of Oneida, proceeded to argue the point that the previous question was not exhausted, as had been ruled by the Speaker. Mr. PARKER, of Cayuga, moved a call of the House. Mr. VAN BUREN, in a trifling pause that occurred, moved an adjournment. This was a master-stroke, if it could be carried, and Mr. VAN BUREN having about the best pair of lungs in the House, succeeded in making himself heard, and was recognized by the Speaker. The yeas and nays were demanded on the motion to adjourn, and were ordered. During the calling of the roll members flocked around the Speaker's desk, and the most intense excitement prevailed. The excitement was increased by the fact that members who had not been counted on voted in favor of adjournment. When the name of Dr. RICHARDSON, of Essex, was called, he desired to be excused from voting. He is Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and a friend of the Health Bill. He stated that he desired to be excused from voting, because he did not agree with the Speaker in his ruling in regard to the previous question, but held that the previous question in this case extended to final action upon the bill, and he did not wish to take advantage of the opponents of the bill. The House did not excuse him from voting, and he voted "No," with the opposition. The roll-call was completed, but before it had gone through with, Dr. RICHARDSON had consulted with his friends, and finally at the last moment, changed his vote to "Yes," with the friends of the bill. The vote was declared by members keeping count, to be so close that no one pretended to tell previous to its announcement which way it was, for or against adjournment. The clerk was occupied a little longer than usual in counting, to make sure that there could be no mistake, and the vote was announced fifty-three to fifty-two, and the Speaker declared the House adjourned. Members and the lobby rushed together into the open space in front of the Speaker's stand, and for a few minutes there was a scene very much resembling a row at an election. There was a good deal of swearing and some rather hard names called by gentlemen that usually keep cool. G. L. SMITH, of New-York, seemed to be very good-natured, but a leading spirit in the crowd. He mounted a desk and proposed to make a bet of a thousand dollars that the Speaker was wrong in his ruling in regard to the previous question. He exhibited a roll of greenbacks, which he was desirous to put up, and a lobbyman pressed forward with an additional supply. Several members made at the Speaker before he had left the chair, and, in the excitement of the moment, explained to him, in a very hurried manner, that his prospects for another world were of the most discouraging character. Several members who favored the bill, indulged in a prolonged and hearty crow, which was a very good imitation. Gradually the excitement subsided, and the members went to dinner.

Defeat of the Health Bill.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

ALBANY, Friday, April 14.

After a two hours' contest in the Assembly this evening, the final vote on the Metropolitan Health Bill was reached, and the bill was killed beyond resuscitation by a vote of 51 for it to 61 against it.

SECOND DISPATCH.

ALBANY, Friday, April 14.

The House has this evening been the theatre of intense excitement, unparalleled since the days of the Callicott contest. The Union men are afflicted with skulking members and open treachery in camp, while the Democrats stand—with full ranks, and determined to force a vote on the Metropolitan Health Bill. Points of order, questions of privilege, and motions to adjourn poured in upon the Speaker with such rapidity that no clerk could have recorded them. Messrs. WEAVER and WEED led the Democrats in the fight and multiplied their questions of order until dozens of members bawled, "Mr. Speaker" at the same time, and confusion worse confounded, unequaled by any Tammany Hall caucus, reigned supreme in the legislative halls.

Several appeals were made from speakers decisions awarding the floor to gentlemen, but the Speaker refused to entertain them. Mr. SALMON denounced the conduct of the Speaker as outrageous and degrading to that officer. The Speaker appealed to the House to preserve its own dignity and protect its presiding officer from such unparliamentary language. Mr. WOOD asked that the language be taken down by the Clerk, which was ordered by the Speaker.

During this scene the House was a perfect bedlam of excitement, and the rapping of the Speaker's gavel failed to obtain order. Messrs. WEAVER and CUTTING were peremptorily ordered to take their seats, which order, after some time, they obeyed.

Mr. WEED finally moved the previous question on reconsidering the bill, which was ordered, and the motion to reconsider was lost. Ayes, 61; nays, 61.

The following Union members voted with the Democrats against the bill:

Messrs. Angel of Cattaraugus, Bemis of Steuben, Cole of Oneida, Clark of Lewis, Crowell of Chautauque, Edwards of Saratoga, Howard of Dutchess, Kimball of Franklin, Mersereau of Broome, Palmer of Jefferson, Rouse of Oneida, Sumner of Chenango, and Webber of Schuyler.

The following Union men were absent:

Messrs. Close, of Cayuga; Hollis, of Otsego; Lewis, of Alleghany; Rankin, of Monroe; E. S. Smith, of Yates; Squires, of Courtland; Tillinghast, of Herkimer, and Topliffe, of Cattaragus.

Thus ends the Health Bill. It is presumed that those Union members who voted against it have satisfactory reasons to support their action.

PERSIMMON.

Amusements.

GERMAN OPERA.—Mr. GROVER'S announcement of his forthcoming campaign of German opera is certainly a most interesting and encouraging document. It is replete with the promise of a brilliant and varied season. The repertoire is unusually large, and embraces all the grander works of the new school. Among these we notice GOUNOD'S "Mireille," and MEYERBEER'S "Huguenots"—the first entirely fresh, and second comparatively so. Mr. GROVER'S company has been increased and strengthened. It is sufficiently ample to play six times a week with safety. There will, however, only be four performances at the Academy next week, opening on Monday with "Faust." We are glad to see that BEETHOVEN'S "Fidelio" is to be given on Wednesday—especially as it has been thoroughly rehearsed in the country. Mr. GROVER'S orchestra and military band will be large and good. We are glad to hear that the sale of seats has been unusually encouraging.

IRVING HALL.—Mlle. DE KATOW and Mr. JAMES M. WEHLI, assisted by Mlle. BEHRENS, will give a grand matinée at this established to-day, beginning at the usual hour. It is their last appearance prior to a tour in the West.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—Mr. OWENS will give a matinée performance here to-day—the play being the "Cricket on the Hearth." Mr. OWENS has kindly given up the the theatre to Mr. and Mrs. CHAS. KEAN, and will not reappear until the 1st of May.

Mlle. STELLA BONHEUR.—This lady will make her début this evening, at Irving Hall. She has a beautiful voice, and much and increasing skill in its use. Mlle. BONHEUR will be assisted by eminent talent. We commend the entertainment heartily to the attention of our readers.

Raw, Blustering Weather, and the varying temperature of the season, are rapidly producing Colds, Coughs and Pulmonary Affection of all kinds. Persons with weak lungs should now be especially careful; and what may seem trifling coughs and colds ought to have immediate attention. The careless indifference which waits for "a cold to go as it came," in many cases results in laying the seeds of consumption. For such neglect of one's health there is no excuse, as Dr. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT can be readily procured, and is the standard remedy for all Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary Affections, its long established reputation being a guarantee of its efficiency. Sold by all druggists.

NOW READY.
GEORGE SANDS' LAST NOVEL.
A YOUNG GIRL'S CONFESSION.

A YOUNG GIRL'S CONFESSION will rank among the best productions of its gifted author. Written in sparkling and, in many parts, eloquent language, the style will attract no less than the skillful development of plot and character. For purity of sentiment, elevation of thought, philosophical clearness of statement, effective working up of the denouement and the charm of romantic interest thrown over all, The Confession is probably unequaled in French imaginative literature. The fascinating simplicity attained only by the "art that conceals art," will doubtless retain for it a place in popular esteem when other and more pretentious works have passed from remembrance.

A NEW NOVEL BY MARION HARLAND,
THE MOST POPULAR NOVELIST IN AMERICA,
author of "Alone," "Hidden Path," "Moss Side," "Nemesis," "Miriam," and "Husks."

One Vol. 12mo. Price $1 75.

The hundreds of thousands of readers of "Alone," "Hidden Path" and "Moss Side" will gladly welcome a new book from the pen of this gifted author.

The Boston Evening Gazette said of "Alone:"

"High as has been the reputation acquired by the many authoresses of our country, we shall be mistaken if the writer of "Alone" and of the "Hidden Path," does not take ere long place and precedence. There is an originality in her thinking which strikes one with peculiar force, and he finds himself unconsciously recurring to what has had such a powerful effect on him. She is emphatically an authoress not to be forgotten."

ANNA CORA RITCHIE says:

"'The Hidden Path' is a work that North or South, East or West, may point to with the finger of honest pride, and say our daughter sends this message to the world, pours this balm into the wounded hearts, traces for wavering, erring feet this 'Hidden Path,' which leads to the great goal of eternal peace.'"

ROUSSEAU'S CONFESSIONS!—THE MOST curious and open confessions ever made. First and only complete translations into English. Two handsome volumes of 706 pages, $2 70; by mail, (securely enveloped,) $3. C. BLANCHARD, No. 30 Ann-st., New-York, publishes this book and several other books that curious people love to read. CUT THIS OUT.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP—THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

This Syrup will search through every blood vessel, equalizing the circulation, preventing hemorrhage, separating the bile from the blood, making it healthy and the circulation natural. With the aid of the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, the system resumes its healthy condition, the purulent matter, abscesses, and all ulcerations of the lungs, must yield to their power.

In almost every square of Philadelphia there are persons who have been cured of Consumption in its several stages by the use of Dr. Schenck's medicines. Many persons have been restored to health by these remedies after being confined to their beds, reduced to mere skeletons, and troubled with cough, night sweats, hectic fever, and all the other indications of an advanced stage of the disease; but by an examination with the Respirometer, one lung has been found to be in a tolerably healthy condition. It cannot be doubted that many lives have been saved by a timely resort to these remedies. It is true that in cases where cures are effected, the patient must have some lungs remaining; but thousands of have descended to their graves, who might have been cured if they had come to Dr. Schenck in time, and placed themselves under his directions. It is not denied that some who take Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup die also. They commence too late. All that Dr. Schenck claims for his medicines is their ability to regulate and invigorate the whole system, to ripen the abscesses, and facilitate the discharge of the morbid matter, to relax the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes, and to dislodge from those tubes the tough phlegm or purulent matter which obstructs them, and produces serious diseases of the organs of respiration.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP will prolong life sometimes several months, by keeping the bronchial tubes free from the putrid matter which impedes their functions, when the lungs are too far gone to cure. There is no medicine that can cure consumption when both lungs are much diseased, and Dr. Schenck would rather every one would know their true condition before taking his medicine, and for this purpose he can be consulted at his Principal Office, No. 39 North 6th-st., Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M., and at No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, every Tuesday. He treats no diseases but those of the Lungs, Liver and Stomach, and makes no charges for advice or examining the lungs in the ordinary way, or as physicians generally do; but for a thorough examination with the respirometer, he charges three dollars, and wishes every one, rich or poor, that has a Cough, Pain in the Side or Shoulder Blade, troubled with Costiveness or Diarrhœa, Sallow Complexion, Loss of Appetite, Low Spirits, Restlessness at Night, or any other disease leading to Consumption, to call on him and get his advice.

SCHENCK'S Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure—even in the advanced stages—Consumption. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, which are generally the forerunners of Consumption, are cured by the use of Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

DR. SCHENCK will be at his Rooms No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, for consultation and advice, every Tuesday, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. His medicines can be obtained there at all times.

DR. SCHENCK will visit Boston next Wednesday and Thursday, the 19th and 20th inst.

Each share entitles the holder to one ton of coal per year, at the cost of mining, transportation and delivery, which is now about $8 per ton; also to a share of the profits on the sale of coal produced beyond the quantity supplied to shareholders.

Those who buy for investment can have the coal they will be entitled to sold for their benefit, and receive the proceeds over the cost in cash.

Investment in this stock is not a risk, for anthracite coal lands are rapidly rising in value.

Ten wells are now going down on the company's property, in the richest portion of the famous Sugar Creek Valley. There is room for 500 more.

The trustees will refrain from lengthy advertisement of the prospects of the SUGAR CREEK PETROLEUM COMPANY, and content themselves with pointing to the features which distinguish it from many enterprises of the day. THE STOCK IS NOT WATERED. The projectors depend for their profits solely on a RISE IN ITS MARKET PRICE.

But a few thousand shares will be sold, and these on the only honest basis, viz., AT THEIR PAR VALUE.

The company's property is worth more than the entire capital stock. The latter is so small, indeed, that even a ten-barrel well will pay regular monthly dividends. The Sugar Creek Wells are but half as expensive, and the oil is twice as valuable as the wells and oil either of Oil Creek or Cherry Run. Prospectuses and Maps can be obtained, and subscriptions effected, by application to CHARLES G. JUDSON, No. 84 Chambers-st.; CHARLES GOULD, No. 58 Wall-st.; J. L. MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

Messrs. CHICKERING & SONS are Sole Agents for the celebrated Alexandre Organs for the United States.

STEINWAY & SON

GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others is, that the firm is composed of five practical piano-forte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms Nos. 71 and 73 East 14th-st., between Union-square and Irving-place, New-York.

THE WEBER PIANO-FORTE

Is admitted the best Piano-forte made, because the maker, besides being a practical mechanic of long experience, is also a thorough musician, thus combining advantages possessed by no other manufacturer in the United States. Such is the testimony of S. B. Mills, Robert Heller, Geo. F. Bristow, Wm. Mason, C. Jerome Hopkins, Charles Fradel, Max Maretzek, Carl Anschutz, John Zundle, Maurice Strakosch, Giovani Sconcia, Edward and Henry Mollenhauer, Louis Schreiber, Emil and Fred Brandeis, W. R. Bassford, Theo. Moelling, and every good musician in the United States. Warerooms No. 155 West Broadway, near Canal-st.

THE DRAFT.

Suspension of the Draft and Recruiting—Order from Provost-Marshal Dodge.

The order of Secretary STANTON to Major.-Gen. DIX, suspending the draft in this city, was cordially welcomed by everybody except the bounty-brokers, who suddenly found their occupation gone, a large number of men left on their hands, and themselves out of pocket. About noon yesterday, the following order was issued from Col. DODGE's office, the Colonel himself being out of town:

OFFICE OF THE A. A. PROVOST-MARSHAL-GENERAL,
AND SUPER'T VOL. RECRUITING SERVICE,
SOUTHERN DIVISION OF NEW-YORK.
NEW-YORK, April 14, 1865.

CIRCULAR No. 47.—In compliance with instructions received from the Bureau of the Provost-Marshal-General of the United States, the business of recruiting and drafting will be discontinued in this division until further orders.

By order of Brevet Lieut.-Col R. I. DODGE,
WM. SCHEFFLER, Capt. and A. A. A. G.

The Southern Division of New-York comprises the first ten Congressional Districts, and the order was sent to the drafting headquarters of each of them in the course of the day.

The suspension of the draft, it is understood, affects all men who have been drafted and who have not actually been mustered into the service. Drafted men who have been notified to appear will probably not be called upon to report, and it is expected that an order will be issued to-day by Gen. FRY, making this fact public.

Of course, no recruits were received yesterday, though hundreds offered themselves, the brokers being particularly anxious to get rid of their men on any terms. Many of these parties have been holding back for higher bounties, and the manner in which their business has been disposed of by Secretary STANTON does not meet with their approval. One of them stated that he had a dozen men whom he had been supporting for weeks, and that the money expended on them was now a dead loss to him. At the office of the Volunteer Committee in the Park, the news was welcomed by a salute of one hundred guns, Mr. BLUNT himself assisting in firing them. Mr. BLUNT will now set his able clerical force to work in drawing up vouchers to present to the State authorities for the bounty money due the County. This will amount to something over $2,000,000. The whole amount expended by the Volunteer Committee is about $8,000.00; and $5,500,000 have also been expended in relieving the families of volunteers.

When the draft was suspended, the quotas of the various wards stood as follows:

3d Ward, 161—including credits up to this time.
4th Ward, 483—including credits up to this time.
6th Ward, 374—including credits up to this time.
7th Ward, 692—including credits up to this time.
13th Ward, 464—including credits for March and since.
14th Ward, 508—including credits for March and since.
17th Ward, 1,000—inclusive of credits up to yesterday.
4,000 names.

BROOKLYN.

The Bounty Committee of the Board of Supervisors of Kings County, held a meeting at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this county pay no more bounties for recruits or volunteers.

Resolved, That in case drafted men are held to service, the Provost-Marshals be requested to give time to ascertain whether such drafted men cannot be discharged—and in case such drafted men cannot be discharged, or given time, then this county will pay such drafted men for one year's substitutes or their bounty.

Since the commencement of the war it is estimated that the total number of men furnished by Kings County is thirty-five thousand, of whom between seventeen thousand and eighteen thousand received bounties in sums varying from $40 to $600.

The total amount of money expended for war purposes in Kings County since the beginning of the war is as follows:

Expended by the county for bounties, relief to families of volunteers, &c....$4,961,760 83
Expended by the city for relief to drafted men, &c....1,060,900 00
Making the total expense of the war to the County of Kings....$6,022,660 83

7. After the sermon, solo, soprano and chorus, arranged by the organist from the "Inflammatus"....Rossini
Miss Brainerd.
8. Voluntary, organ....
9. Communion service, anthem by Dr. Beames and hymn.

Contralto—Miss Virgin a Tucker.
Tenore—Mr. Alex. Rehberg.
Basso—Mr. George W. Van Siclen.
Organist and Director—Dr. Clare W. Beames.

At the South Dutch Church on Fifth-avenue, corner Twenty-first-street, Rev. Dr. ROGERS, the festival of Easter will be observed with unusual attention. The music, which is generally of a high order, being supported by one of the finest organs in the city, will be rendered additionally interesting in the evening by the assistance of St. Bartholomew's choir, including Miss MARIA BRAINERD, who will, on this occasion, sing "I Know that my Redeemer Liveth," from HANDEL's Messiah, and other appropriate selections.

Services to commence at 7:30 o'clock.

At Trinity and our other large churches arrangements have been completed to render the music specially attractive.

At Zion Church, (Bishop SOUTHGATE's,) the following artists have been engaged for the occasion:

Tenor—Sig. Mongiardini.
Contralto—Mrs. Jennie Kempton.
Soprano—Mrs. Mixsell.
Baritone—Sig. Centemeri.
Leader and Organist—Mr. Antonio L. Mora, late of St. Stephen's R. C. Church in Twenty-eighth-street.

The following are the pieces to be sung in the morning:

Te Deum—By A. L. Mora, with solo by Sig. Centemeri.
Gloria Patri—A. L. Mora, and sung by a double quartette.
Jubilate Deo—A. L. Mora, with duet by Mrs. Kempton and Mongiardini. The psalter of the day will be chanted by a double quartette, composed of boys. Services to commence at 11 o'clock A. M.

The Revolutionary Heroes to Participate in the Celebration of Our Victories.

Mr. SIMEON DRAPER, Chairman of the Citizens' Celebration Committee, has invited the few remaining heroes of the Revolutionary war, to visit this city and participate in the celebration of our victories and the advent of peace. Mr. FAIRCHILD has been deputed to conduct these venerable soldiers to New-York. Their names are: LEMUEL COOK, enlisted at Hatfield, Mass., and resides in Clarendon, Orleans County, N. Y.; SAMUEL DOWNING, enlisted in Carroll County, N. H., lives in Edinburgh, Saratoga County, N. Y.; WILLIAM HUTCHINGS, enlisted at Newcastle, Me., (then Massachusetts,) and resides in Penobscot, Hancock County, Me.; ALEXANDER MARONEY, enlisted at Lake George, N. Y., as a drummer-boy, residence, Yates, Orleans County, N. Y.; JAMES BARHAM, substitute for a drafted man in Southampton County, Va., lives in the State of Missouri.

We have received the following note, announcing the arrival of one of the gentlemen above-named:

ASTOR HOUSE, Friday, April 14, 1865.

SAMUEL DOWNING, one of the survivors of the Revolution, aged 104 years, has arrived here this afternoon. He is here in response to the invitation of the committee who have in charge the forthcoming celebration, and enters into the matter with as much ardor as a youth, and talks about the rebels with the same intense hatred as he does of the tories of his day. He has four grandsons in the Union army, and says if they had not gone, he should have gone himself.

The Union League Club.

At a full meeting of the club on Thursday evening, the following resolutions, reported by Mr. JAY from the Executive Committee, were unanimously adopted. The last resolution, referring to the reciprocal treatment to be henceforth accorded to foreign vessels, was received with warm applause:

Resolved 1, That in view of the recent memorable exploits of the Army of the Potomac, compelling the evacuation of Petersburgh and Richmond, and the surrender by the rebel LEE of the insurgent forces of Northern Virginia, this club, in common with all Christian men and loyal citizens, are impressed with a feeling of deep thankfulness to Almighty God for having graciously preserved us from the plottings of traitors at home and their abettors abroad, and for having vindicated, by His all-powerful arm, the permanence of our constitution, the unity of our country, the supremacy of our government, and the honor of our flag.

2. That we welcome these victories, not simply as terminating a long, bloody and costly strife, and establishing the American republic in her proper pre-eminence among the great powers of the world, but we hail them as restoring the southern section of our land to freedom, civilization and peace, and that we entertain none but feelings of compassion and good will towards those masses of our southern countrymen who have been deluded and coerced into rebellion by wicked men at the North and at the South, who, false to their oaths and their honor, have sought in vain to destroy their country.

3. That we cordially recognize the fact that the steadfast loyalty of the colored population of the South has materially assisted to rescue our land from the treachery of rebels in arms, and that the debt of gratitude due to them by loyal Americans can in no way be better repaid than in earnest and united efforts for their elevation and education in all that befits their new position as citizens of the republic they have helped to save.

4. That remembering the glorious page in our history which has been illumined by the heroic deeds of our army and navy during the last four years, and of which we were sadly reminded yesterday by the funeral obsequies of our own brave and lamented WINTHROP, no time should be lost in organizing suitable homes and modes of employment for our wounded and disabled heroes soon to return to us from the field of war.

5. That we tender to the President of the United States our heartiest congratulations on this bright dawning of his second administration after the clouds and gloom that encompassed the first, and we cordially thank him for his two recent proclamations—the one closing certain of our seaports in the exercise of the sovereign power of the America people; and the other notifying foreign nations that henceforth their ships in our ports will be excluded from all privileges which, under whatever pretext, and denied in their harbors to the vessels of the United States.

The Homeopathic Physicians and Their Friends—Birthday of Hahnemann.

The annual meeting of the New-York County Homeopathic Medical Society was held at DELMONICO's rooms on Fifth-avenue, on Monday night, thus at the same time doing honor to the anniversary of the birth of the illustrious HAHNEMANN.

There was a goodly company of ladies and gentlemen around the banquet board, and the dinner was as little suggestive of homeopathic quantities as of allopathic gustation.

Besides the guests, among whom were several gentlemen of distinction, and the members hereinafter mentioned, there were Drs. Füllgraff, Banet, Wallbridge, Fowler, Andrews, Bowers, Dunne, McMurray, Clark, Wilder, Blumenthal, Remsen, Léon Mitchell, Bacon, Hitchcock, Kellogg, J. H. Ward, J. A. Ward, King, Evans, Bradford, Pratt, Tranchard, Gilbert, Barlow, Ball, Hallock, Baldwin, Millard, Paine and Macgonagil.

The inaugural oration of the President, EGBERT GUERNSEY, M. D., was a noble production, entirely worthy of his abilities as a scholar, a philanthropist and an orator.

An address was then delivered by JOHN F. GRAY, M. D., on the life and times of the beloved Dr. A. D. WILSON; but as the reporter, who was weary, not to say "stale, flat and unprofitable," had an exposition of sleep come upon him at this time, he can say nothing about it.

The regular toasts were next in order, each embellished by appropriate music.

1. The President of the United States.
This was drunk standing.

2. Our Country and her Brave Defenders, the Army and Navy—The blood they have shed in her defence has cemented her walls into adamantine strength, and woe to the nation or faction that dare assail her.

Capt. GEO. F. NOYES, author of "The Bivouack and the Battle-field," was called upon, who responded to this sentiment in his thrilling and elegant style.

3. The True Physician.
This was a generous toast, speaking for humanity and for all who alleviate its sufferings through the medical profession, of whatever school or practice.

Rev. Mr. HASTINGS, in response, shook off "the dust of systems and of creeds," "with a vengeance."

4. The Memory of Hahnemann.
Drunk standing and in silence.

5. Our City.
In reply to which, Rev. Dr. CUMMINGS held the mirror up to nature, and art, too, reflecting the shortcomings and long-comings of our city with his characteristic, indescribable, and unreportable vigor of wit, dryer than a graven image, yet bringing moisture to all eyes. But it was not the lachrymation of grief.

6. The Progress of Medical Science and Literature.
Responded to by D. D. SMITH, M. D.

7. Our Institutions of Charity.
By H. B. MILLARD, M. D.

8. Woman, the physician's best friend and counsel; who often, by her kind, earnest care, and natural influence for good, unconsciously cures the patient in spite of the doctor, and gives him all the honor.

This truthful toast received a deserved and felicitous response from Dr. J. A. DOWLING.

During a period of social intercourse it was concluded that if "Like cureth like" is not an improvement over LINDLEY MURRAY, it is over HIPPOCRATES, which was considered vastly more to the point.

An hour after midnight the company dispersed, the programme having closed with the recitation of a patriotic poem by the reporter, followed by the chorus of "Glory Hallelujah."

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

LAST DRAFT MEETING IN THE NINTH WARD.—The association in this ward met last evening pursuant to a call made prior to the publication of Gen. FRY's order, and after hearing the report of their treasurer, Mr. WILSON, adopted unanimously the following resolution, presented by SINCLAIR TOUSEY, Esq.:

Resolved, That the funds remaining on hand after all expenses have been paid shall be donated to the managers of the Soldiers' Orphans Home at Flushing, L. I.

The balance now in the treasury is a little over $750. Resolutions were also adopted returning the thanks of the meeting to the officers of the association, and also to Capt. C. R. COSTER, the Provost-Marshal of the Sixth District, in which the Ninth Ward is comprised. This gentleman has been most indefatigable in his efforts to aid the drafted men of the ward, and is held in high esteem among them, if the resolutions are a criterion. In adjourning forever, the meeting expressed their gratitude to the armies and Generals of the United States for bringing about the happy conclusion of all our late national woes.

PERSONAL.—The friends of Gen. C. D. MAC DOUGALL will be glad to learn that the General will shortly pay a visit to this city. Gen. MAC DOUGALL entered the service at the breaking out of the war as a Captain in the Seventy-fifth New-York Regiment, and after serving for one year was promoted to the Colonelcy of the One Hundred and Eleventh New-York Regiment. At Gettysburgh and Bristow he commanded the Third Brigade, and has been in all the battles that have occurred since. He received a shot through the arm at the battle of Gettysburgh, but refused to retire, and fainted on the field from loss of blood. The General is only 26 years of age, and has probably seen as much and as active service as any officer of his years.

NEW CARS ON THE NEW-YORK AND HARLEM RAILROAD.—To-day (Saturday) the New-York and Harlem Railroad—city line, or "Fourth-avenue" as it is most generally known—will place on their road a new set of cars, instead of the old ones, which were neither numerous enough or good enough to perform the service. Instead of forty-two ricketty cars there will in future be sixty—all of the latest style. Mr. THOMAS J. BROWN, one of the most efficient officers the Custom-house ever possessed, is the Superintendent of this line, and his activity and energy are already having their effect. He is determined that the cars shall run on time from the Custom-house; that they be kept cleanly, and that the conductors are civil and attentive to passengers.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT BATH, L. I.—On Thursday afternoon, a party of workmen employed in painting and decorating Mayor GUNTHER's residence at Bath, L. I., took a sailboat and pushed off into the bay. After they had been out a short time, by some mismanagement, the boat was upset, and the party, four in number, were thrown into the water. They all succeeded in reaching land except a painter named BURNS, who was drowned. The body was recovered, and is now at the house of the Mayor in Bath. The deceased was in the employ of Mr. ACKER, No. 9 Macdougal-street, New-York.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY TRINITY.—The Church of the Holy Trinity, just erected at the intersection of Madison-avenue and East Forty-second-street, from the designs and under the superintendence of Mr. J. WREY MOULD, architect, will be opened for Divine service for the first time to-morrow (Easter Sunday.) The pastor, Rev. STEPHEN H. TYNG, Jr., will officiate in the morning—the Rev. Dr. TYNG, of St. George's, in the evening. An efficient choir, led by Mme. C. M. BRINKERHOFF, will contribute to the musical portion of the ceremonies.

A NEW CHURCH.—An advertisement among our Religious Notices announces the opening of the new church of the Holy Trinity, Madison-avenue, corner of Forty-second-street, on Sunday. Sermons will be preached at the three sessions by Rev. Dr. TYNG, of St. George's, Rev. Dr. DYER and Rev. STEPHEN H. TYNG, Jr., the pastor of the church. It promises to be an occasion of great interest to the residents on Murray Hill.

A VETERAN TEMPERANCE CORPS.—All persons who have abstained from intoxicating drinks during a third of a century and upward are invited to meet at Room No. 24, Cooper Institute, at 7½ P. M., on Tuesday evening, April 18, and take measures for organizing a veteran temperance corps.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS—PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATIONS.—There will be a patriotic demonstration at Grammar School No. 48, West Twenty-eighth-street, near Sixth-avenue, at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning next. A pleasant time may be expected.

Miss EMMA HARDINGE speaks to-night at Dodworth's Hall, on "Politics in the Pulpit." The lady is, we understand, prepared to answer any questions her auditors see fit to ask upon the subject.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

THE RETURN OF PEACE.—The city was ornamented with flags yesterday, in honor of the return of peace. Every public building and many private residences had banners flying.

The Kings County Supervisors' Bounty Committee held a meeting yesterday morning and adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this county pays no more bounties to recruits or volunteers.

Resolved, That in case of drafted men held to service, the Provost-Marshals are requested to give time to ascertain whether such drafted men cannot be discharged, and in case such drafted men cannot be discharged or given time, then the county will pay such drafted men for one year's substitutes or their bounty.

There is very little business doing at the Provost-Marshal's office of the Third District. The following will show the quota required and the deficiency under the last call:

Ward.	Quota.	Deficiency.	Ward.	Quota.	Deficiency.
1	29	12	7	164	80
2	133	64	11	169	105
3	full	full	13	224	91
4	78	21	19	38	full
5	221	120	20	93	8

The Twentieth Ward has furnished all the men required, but the result has not yet been officially declared.

A number of the Navy-yard strikers still hold out. Hundreds were standing outside of the gates yesterday, waiting for something to turn up. Hon. Messrs. RAYMOND, HUMPHREY and DARLING are expected to intercede in their behalf. Some have gone to work at the prices dictated by the government, but many stand out in the expectation of better terms. A committee sent to Washington have not yet returned.

THE COST OF THE WAR.—The total amount of money appropriated by Kings County for the relief of volunteers' families and paying bounties, since 1862, is $5,271,185 83. The number of men furnished to the army and navy was about 30,000.

The Gem of the Toilet, the world says, is SOZODONT. It renders the teeth pearly white, gives to the breath a fragrant odor, extinguishing the ill humors which usually flow from a bad and neglected set of teeth. SOZODONT is so convenient, and produces a sensation at once so delightful, that makes it a pleasure to use it.

PLANTATION BITTERS BY THE MILE.—Messrs. P. H. DRAKE & Co., last year sold nearly two million bottles of PLANTATION BITTERS. Allowing twelve inches to the bottle, set in a continuous line, they would extend 379 miles. What a nation of invalids we are! Just think of a stream, three inches square, extending from New-York to Buffalo, being swallowed by human stomachs in a single year. Yet, people appear to thrive under it, and repeat with pleasure. We are inclined to think DRAKE & Co. are entitled to the persimmons. Viva la PLANTATION, S. T.—1860—X.

CONSUMPTION—CONSUMPTION.—We say to persons having consumption, in whatever stage of the disease, use Dr. WISHART's Pine Tree Tar Cordial, which is readily taken up by the blood and carried to lungs, and the healing principles of the tar act upon the inflamed sores of the lungs and stop their decay at once, and the patient's life is saved. The Pine Tree Tar Cordial has great power to dissolve the thick mucous that stops up the wind-passages of the lungs, and expels it from the system. The Pine Tree Tar Cordial purifies the blood and cleanses it of all scrofulous matter that is constantly breeding sores, internal and external. Salt rheum, blotches on the face, and all skin diseases, are especially cured by Dr. WISHART's Pine Tree Tar Cordial. Office No. 10 North Second-street, Philadelphia. Sold at HELMBOLD'S Drug and Chemical Warehouse, No. 594 Broadway, New-York.

CURIOUS ASSOCIATIONS.—Why, when a Hat is mentioned, is the name of KNOX always associated with it? Because he is famous in that line of business, produces his style for every season, and his establishment, No. 212 Broadway, corner of Fulton-st., has always a large supply of Hats, Caps, &c. This season Mr. KNOX, as usual, produces his Spring styles of these articles, and a more tasteful assortment we have never seen. His Spring style of Hats must make a sensation.

PATENT DRILLING MACHINE
PILE DRIVER
AND HYDRAULIC SAND PUMP.

PRACTICAL TESTS having fully demonstrated the superiority of this machine over all others for the purpose of sinking Oil Wells, the undersigned is now prepared to receive orders for the same.

This machinery comprises everything requisite for the boring of oil wells, excepting the STEAM ENGINE AND CAST-IRON DRIVING-PIPE, (but will be furnished, if desired, at a reasonable price,) and dispenses with the use of the derrick-rope, bull-wheel and other cumbrous and expensive fixtures now in use, and is so arranged, being constructed on wheels and portable, that it can be easily removed for the purpose of sinking wells in different localities.

THE DETRITUS is removed from the well by our Patent Hydraulic process, and does not require the removal of the drill from the boring. This process not only removes all the detritus in from 5 to 10 minutes, but likewise effectually clears out and opens all the small oil veins that are so often entirely closed up by the old process of sand pumping.

WITH THIS MACHINE and a practical engineer, a well can be sunk from 400 to 600 feet, within a period of from 15 to 30 days after the soil-pipe has been driven.

Arrangements are being made for the construction and delivery of these machines at New-York, Norwich, Newburgh, N. Y., and Pittsburgh, Penn.

ELECTRICITY

CURATIVE AGENT.

The claims of Dr. CHAMBERLIN to an important discovery in the therapeutic powers of Electricity have been so generally discussed through the public journals, that further argument seems unnecessary to convince the public that his system of curing disease by electrical action is original with himself, and based upon scientific principles.

No doubt can now remain as to the curative powers of Electricity, and its perfect adaptation to all forms of disease.

FROM DR. CHAMBERLIN'S

long experience, the most ample opportunities have been afforded for testing its utility, not alone by the aid of a single electrical apparatus, but from all the various combinations of currents. Neither has his experience been confined to any particular class of diseases, but has extended to nearly every form to which flesh is heir.

The cures he is daily effecting are the most surprising, and have no parallel in the medical history of the world.

NO BETTER EVIDENCE

can be given of his discovery and the efficacy of his treatment, than the following testimonial from numerous well-known citizens of New-York, who have witnessed the astonishing results at No. 50 Bond-st.

CONCLUSION OF REPORT.

The undersigned, feeling deeply interested in the subject of electrical science, and especially that branch of it which relates to the cure of disease, as practiced by Dr Chamberlin, take occasion to affirm, both from our own experience and observation, that we believe it simple and effective, and deserving the attention of the afflicted. We have witnessed the complete restoration to health of many persons who have been long ill, who have enjoyed the benefits of the advice and skill of some of the most eminent medical practitioners of this and other countries, without relief or even hope of relief. In some instances the disease of years' standing has yielded almost at the first touch of the electric elements, while in others it has required a more protracted treatment, and, without exception, the most satisfactory results have followed.

We desire, therefore, thus publicly to make it known that Dr. Chamberlin has demonstrated to us, in the most satisfactory manner, that his claims are based upon immutable laws, that his treatment is founded upon scientific principles, and we most cordially recommend all who are suffering from physical ills to consult Dr. Chamberlin, under whose supervision they will learn for themselves that what we have affirmed in reference to his system is true and entitled to their grateful recognition.
